Dr. Fred A. Cook Ordered Paroled From Leavenworth

Former Arctic Explorer Is To Pay $12,000 Fee or Have Parole Extended

PAPERS REVIEWED

United States District Attorney Takes Action Following Deliberations

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(UP)—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, former Arctic explorer, physician and oil promoter, was ordered paroled from Leavenworth prison today by Attorney General Mitchell. Cook has been serving a sentence of 14 years and nine months following his conviction at Fort Worth, Tex., on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Attorney General Mitchell ordered the parole papers mailed to Warden T. B. White immediately and it is expected that the noted prisoner will be released from Leavenworth Sunday afternoon.

Mitchell received the papers in the Cook case late yesterday and studied them until early midnight. There was no opposition to the release.

Cook's term would have expired March 2, 1935, with allowance for good behavior. In addition to his prison sentence, the explorer-physician was fined $12,000, which if he fails to pay when he is released, means his parole period will be extended 30 additional days from March 2, 1935, to make up for this penalty.

Dr. Cook, who won a short lived world fame in 1909 when he claimed to be the first man ever to reach the North Pole, has been prisoner No. 23115 at Leavenworth for four years and 11 months, thus having served one-third of his sentence. He entered the prison on April 6, 1925, after fighting his case through the supreme court.

The penalty given the physician-explorer was for a similar offense. The usual sentence for use of the mails to defraud is from one to three years, and others sentenced with Cook were paroled three years ago.

Cook, who started out in life as a physician, earned nearly as much notoriety with the oil promotion schemes that caused his imprisonment as he did with his ill-starred polar exploits. After his claims to having reached the North Pole were discredited by the University of Copenhagen, Commander Robert E. Peary and others, Cook did not gain notice again until 1921 when he appeared in Texas as promoter for the Petroleum Producers association.

Henry L. Stimson Secretary's Death Held Accidental

LONDON, March 7.—(UP)—A coroner's court, sitting at Westminster, today declared the death of Mrs. Pearl Demaret, secretary to Henry L. Stimson, due to accident.

Mrs. Demaret, attached to the American delegation, died in a 40-foot fall from her window in the Mayfair hotel, on the eve of her intended return to America.

TARIFF EDITOR USES DESK IN GRUNDY OFFICE

Refutes Testimony Given By Pennsylvania Solon In Hearings Today

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(UP)—Warren F. Doane, editor of a high tariff magazine, The Manufacturer, told the senate lobby committee today he has a desk in the office of Senator Grundy, Republican, Pennsylvania, in the senate office building.

Doane, who was the first witness in the committee's investigation of charges Grundy is maintaining an office for the American Tariff League at the capitol, testified he has been on Grundy's personal payroll at $500 a month for several years.

Doane said he has a salary of $5000 a year as editor of The Manufacturer, published by the Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia. He also receives a salary of $2400 a year as member of the Pennsylvania election law commission, he added.

Chairman Caraway asked Doane where he did his work for Grundy. "In room 322 in the senate office building," Doane replied.

"Do you spend all your time there?"

"No, I do Senator Grundy's work there."

He explained he chiefly does research work for Grundy.

Caraway pointed out that Grundy had denied on the senate floor yesterday that Doane had an office in the office building.

Doane explained that he also has an office in a downtown hotel.

"I have a desk and typewriter in Senator Grundy's office," Doane said, adding that four stenographers also work in that room.

The desk and typewriter were assigned to him in the senate office building a week or so after Senator Grundy was appointed, he testified.

Grundy told the senate yesterday that Doane only visits in his office.

"He comes to my office when I want him to come there, to consult with me," Grundy said.

"He has been principally staying there, has he not?" Caraway asked Grundy.

"Oh, no, he visits there when I want him."

MAN WOUNDED WHEN WHISKEY CAPTURED

CLEVELAND, March 7.—(UP)—One man was seriously wounded and a second arrested when coast guardsmen overhauled a rum running tug loaded with 1000 cases of Canadian whiskey, after firing on it with rifles and a one-pounder today.

The tug, an armor plated craft, was overtaken half way between Lorain and Cleveland by a large coast guard cutter commanded by Capt. J. T. Hagelove.

The wounded man gave his name as Fred Hentrie, of Detroit. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Lorain and was reported in critical condition with two bullets in his back. The other man gave his name as Joe Hanna and was lodged in Lorain city jail.

Woman Abandons Suicide Attempt When Babies Cry

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—(UP)—A young married woman and her baby daughters, six months and four years old, were alive today because of mother instinct.

After Mrs. Julia Chalmers, 21, started to wade into the Pacific ocean with her daughters, Elsie Loraine and Betty Jane, she fought her way to shore because of the children's terror.

The young mother and her babies were taken to an emergency hospital by a passing motorist. The babies are in serious condition.

A bitter quarrel with her husband is believed to have caused Mrs. Chalmers' act.

Register Sets New Record For Food Ads

Tonight's issue of the Santa Ana Register in its food section will be found to carry 13,426 lines of local retail food advertising. This is not duplicated by any paper in the entire state of California. This is surely a big treat for the ladies.

RED THURSDAY BRINGS DEATH AND INJURIES

Bloodshed and Rioting Are Responsible For Four Untimely Deaths

By UNITED PRESS THE GREAT international demonstration against unemployment—Communist Thursday—ended in bloodshed and rioting with hundreds arrested and four persons killed in the city of New York.

So far as can be learned four persons were killed in the rioting which broke out in many of the industrial and populated districts of the city.

In New York the peaceful demonstration was turned into a bedlam when an unauthorized parade started towards city hall. Communist sympathizers and by-standers were knocked down.

One hundred persons were treated for injuries. Police Commissioner Grover Whalen termed the outbreak the "worst since the World war."

Germany was the scene of many conflicts. Two rioters were killed at Halle. Three hundred were arrested in Berlin. One killed and more than a score wounded. Through that entire nation there were demonstrations, riots and consequent injuries and arrests.

London had a great demonstration which for a time became acute. Paris, however, was quiet as police patrolled roads in the suburbs and cautioned against illegal assembly in the metropolitan district.

A survey indicated the following results of the great mass demonstration against unemployment: Injured—268. Arrested—511.

Rioting and demonstrations were widespread in the United States with every major city reporting difficulties except Chicago and San Francisco. These two cities had peaceful demonstrations.

New York—100 injured, 13 arrested. Detroit—13 injured, 23 arrested. Boston—8 arrested. Pittsburgh—2 injured seriously. Milwaukee—47 arrested, 4 injured, 3 hour riot.

Washington—13 arrested, after police used tear gas bombs against a demonstration in front of the White House.

The demonstrations spread into Canada. At Winnipeg police and unemployed clashed in a brief battle. Many were injured but none was considered in a serious condition. Montreal reported a minor disturbance.

BODIES OF FLYERS IN FAIRBANKS TODAY

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, March 7.—(UP)—This community—in mourning for several days—prepared today to pay highest honors to Lieutenant Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland when the funeral plane bearing their bodies arrives from Ruby.

The father of Eielson and Borland's widow were among those who anxiously awaited the bodies of the two flyers, who gave their lives in an airplane crash several months ago while en route to aid the crew of the icebound motorship Nanuk at North Camp, Siberia.

After appropriate services here the bodies will be taken to the United States for burial.

SAYS ENGLAND HAS MONOPOLY ON NARCOTICS

New York Physician Tells House Great Britain Boosts Production

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(UP)—Charging that Great Britain has a world monopoly on opium and is encouraging its production, Representative Sirovich, Democrat, New York, a physician, advocated international regulation of the narcotic traffic in a speech before the house today.

"Great Britain has established an opium monopoly which encourages poppy growing even to the extent of lending money without interest to those who are willing to cultivate the plant," he said. "England today has unofficial agents throughout the world drugging poor and unsuspecting victims."

The poppy is grown principally in India, Egypt, Persia and Asiatic Turkey, all owned or controlled by England, Sirovich said, and most of the world's opium supply is manufactured in the British Isles. The only way to check the drug habit is to fit production to needs of medicine, he told the house.

Sirovich has introduced a bill authorizing President Hoover to call a conference in Washington next year for the purpose of negotiating an agreement between the civilized nations of the world to permit international regulation of the narcotic industry and manufacture only enough drugs to fulfill legitimate needs.

Declaring that prohibition has driven many weaklings to drug addiction, Sirovich advocated expenditure of some of the $36,000,000 used annually for Volstead law enforcement in the fight against narcotics.

While three tons of opium and its derivatives would be enough to satisfy the medical and scientific requirements of the entire world, Sirovich said, almost 200 tons were smuggled into this country alone last year, about 85 per cent of it coming through the port of New York.

"An ounce of morphine sells in Europe for 50 cents," he said. "By the time it is smuggled into our country it sells for $150 an ounce. What a tremendous profit is made by these unscrupulous vendors who live upon the weakness of the men and women of the country."

"The consumption of opium per capita is one grain in England, two in Germany, four in France and eight in the United States."

MEXICAN KILLED BY CUSTOMS OFFICERS

EL PASO, Tex., March 7.—(UP)—One Mexican was dead and several others believed wounded today after the second battle this week between liquor smugglers and United States customs officers.

The Mexicans were surprised by customs inspectors yesterday as they attempted to bring a load of liquor across the Rio Grande.

The smugglers are believed by customs officials to have been the ones who were driven back across the river Tuesday after a large quantity of liquor had been captured.

PROPERTY AT FOURTH AND BUSH SELLS FOR $300,000

Property that is said to have been in the William F. Lutz family here 40 to 50 years changed hands today when Miss Elizabeth C. McMaster, of Los Angeles, purchased a holding at the corner of Fourth and Bush streets from Mrs. Emma Lutz for $300,000.

Negotiations are under way which may result in remodeling and renovating the two story and one story buildings on the property and the launching of new business enterprises here. The property was purchased by Miss McMaster through Phil Prunier, her agent.

The property has a frontage of 75 feet on Fourth street and 165 feet on Bush street. Sixty-five feet of the frontage on Bush street extends west for a distance of 125 feet. The rear frontage extends to a depth of 75 feet, matching the 75 foot front on Fourth street.

In announcing the purchase Prunier voiced his belief that Fourth street has a bright future here as a business artery.

400 Expected To Be Present This Evening

Produce Originating Only In Orange County To Be Put On Tables

FOUR HUNDRED Santa Ana boosters, men and women, will gather around the tables at the annual home products dinner of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, at St. Ann's Inn, at 6:30 p. m. today, according to announcement by Secretary George Raymer.

Many varieties of food products grown and manufactured in Orange county will be served at the dinner, growers and manufacturers co-operating to the fullest possible extent in promoting the dinner.

Addresses will be delivered by E. C. Thomas, general agent for the Pacific Electric, and Prof. Herbert Harris, of Whittier college.

The Harrell orchestra will disperse popular numbers during the serving of the dinner and during the evening solo will be offered by Margherita Marsden and Robert Brown.

One of the features of the annual affair is an exhibit of products manufactured in the city. Displays are arranged on the porch and in the lobby of St. Ann's Inn. The exhibits reflect the extent of manufacturing in Santa Ana, particularly of the larger concerns.

Centralization of the products in one exhibit, in the opinion of Raymer, will bring forcibly to the attention of the local public the wide variety of articles and will impress on the public mind the fact that the city is supporting a large number of industries.

STRIKE OF MANILA STUDENTS BROKEN

MANILA, March 7.—(UP)—The back of the students' strike seemed broken today as 4000 prepared to return to school.

Sullenness engendered by allegedly insulting remarks made by an American woman teacher seemed to have been dispelled by public utterances of Governor General Dwight Davis, Senator Manuel Quezon and other native and American leaders, who counseled the students to recognize discipline and leave investigation in the hands of proper authorities.

Mass meetings were still in progress, but little disorder was reported.

ORANGE DRUGGISTS DRAW LIQUOR FINES

ORANGE, March 7.—Three Orange druggists were fined $300 each when they appeared before Judge G. W. Ingle on charges of selling liquor. They were Gus McMullen, of the Harms drug store, 136 South Glassell street; Elmer Swift, of the Simons drug store, 106 North Glassell street, and Adolph, of the Dittmer drug store, 101 South Glassell street.

The arrests were made by Orange police officers following an investigation. The men paid their fines.

2 FILM MEN GIVEN INCOME TAX FINES

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—(UP)—Two more motion picture people today were free from the cloud of income tax worry which has hung over the screen colony, after they paid deficiencies, penalties and fines.

They are John Francis Dillon, film director, and Warner Oland, actor of Chinese character parts. Dillon paid a fine of $250 yesterday, and a penalty of $1921.90 besides an additional tax of $3843.79 for 1926. Oland's additional tax payment amounted to $1,504.04, and a penalty of $752 for 1927. He was also fined $250.

NATIONAL GRANGE HEAD SAYS AMERICAN FARMER WILL NOT STAND FOR DRY LAW REPEAL

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, late yesterday told the House Judiciary committee, in the wet and dry hearings, that the American farmer is convinced prohibition is a good thing for the country and will not stand for its repeal.

Speaking for 1,000,000 members in thirty-four States, Taber branded as "pure propaganda" statements by the wets that the Eighteenth Amendment has injured the farmers economically through reducing the market for grains. The fact, he said, is that prohibition has helped the farmers because much of the money which formerly was spent in saloons now goes for the purchase of meats, grain products, milk and other commodities.

He produced government statistics to prove that since enactment of the dry laws production and consumption of major farm products have increased amazingly all along the line.

Corn Use Small Only about 1 per cent of the annual corn crop ever went into the making of liquors, he asserted, while raising of hops was always a relatively unimportant industry. The rye market was at first curtailed by prohibition, he said, but found immediate relief through the increased use of rye for foodstuffs and export.

There is one word that gives the reason why the liquor traffic will never come back," Taber asserted, "and that word is 'automobile.'" He said in his opinion urban voters would join hands with the farmers in keeping drunken drivers off the streets and highways.

Before Taber took the stand the committee heard from Miss Ruth G. K. Strawbridge of Philadelphia, that "dry" parties are becoming popular among the social elite in the third city. After conferences with former Chief Justice Taft and largely at his suggestion, Miss Strawbridge said she recently sent circular letters to 2300 Philadelphia matrons, prominent in social and civic affairs, asking if they would be willing to set an example of prohibition law enforcement in their entertainments.

She was shortly after President Hoover had appealed to the "better people" to back him up in observing the dry laws.

Money Used In Trade The testimony of Taber, National Grange head, dealt almost entirely with the economic side of prohibition from the farmer's viewpoint. "Ten years' experience," he said, "has convinced the farmer that economically, socially, financially and morally, our country is much improved under prohibition. The fact that has impressed the farmer is the increased purchasing power that has come to the American citizen. Men who used

LENTE DANCES OF TRIBE UNDER WAY

TUCSON, Ariz., March 7.—(UP)—Regarded as one of the most colorful tribal ceremonies in all the ancient lore of the Yaquis, the Lente dances were under way here today in the village of Barrio Pascua.

While braves and squaws chanted quaint rituals to the beat of tom-toms, the spirit dancers swayed through strange measures invoking the good will of Nyaqui Kachina. Their bodies were painted and grotesque masks adorned their heads that evil spirits might be afraid to come within the tribal circle during the Easter rites.

The Easter celebration of the Yaquis is a mixture of Indian tradition and the rites of the Catholic church and is witnessed each year by thousands of tourists and natives.

Funeral Of Rich Hollywood Woman Set For Saturday

HOLLYWOOD, March 7.—(UP)—Funeral services for Almira Parker Hershey, 86, regarded as one of Hollywood's outstanding business women and philanthropists, will be held here tomorrow.

Miss Hershey died late yesterday after a long illness, complicated by her advanced age.

The estate of Miss Hershey will reach into the millions and it was believed that most of the money will go to carry on the philanthropies in which she was interested while alive. The fortune was made largely in Hollywood real estate.

Miss Hershey was born in Pennsylvania, and once lived in Muscatine, Ia., where her father was in the lumber business.

POSSE FINDS WRECKAGE IN MOUNTAINS

Apparently Plane Struck Tip of Hills at High Rate Of Speed During Trip

SHIP IS NOT BURNED Several Hours Are Needed To Remove Bodies From Plane After Discovery

SAN BERNARDINO, March 7.—(UP)—The bodies of three Western Air Express men, missing for two weeks, were found today in the wreckage of their plane in a box canyon in the San Bernardino mountains 15 miles from Lake Arrowhead.

A posse of 30 persons which left the Coker ranger station after the plane was reported located from the air yesterday discovered the remains of the men under the destroyed fuselage of their craft this morning.

It took several hours to extricate the bodies of the men, James E. Dolan, pilot, Arthur Beiber, co-pilot, and John Slaton, steward.

The bodies were placed in canvas and will be taken to Victorville where an inquest will be held tomorrow.

Members of the posse which found the craft said the tri-motored 12-passenger ship in which the men were flying from Kingman, Ariz., to Los Angeles was destroyed completely.

A wing tip was found on the highest peak of the mountains in the vicinity. It was not until two hours later that the searchers found the smashed fuselage almost a half mile away.

It was apparent, it was said, that the craft struck the peak while travelling at a fast speed. The plane did not burn although pilots who saw it from the air made such a report.

The posse was led by Mrs. Juanita Eloise Burns, who late yesterday flew over the country with Pilot Dudley Steele and saw the wreckage from the air.

While the men and Mrs. Burns were struggling over the snow-covered mountain trails, Monte Shelton, a Western Air flyer, helped them keep their bearings by flying between the party and the rugged canyon where the three birdmen met death.

W. H. TAFT NOT IN IMMEDIATE DANGER

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(UP)—William Howard Taft is in no immediate danger, it was indicated here today, although the former chief justice is still critically ill and no hope is held by physicians for his recovery.

His improvement of the past four days has enabled Dr. Francis Hagner and Thomas Clayton to reduce the number of their visits but they are keeping in close touch with his home.

The former chief justice was resting comfortably when the doctors last communicated with his attendants, shortly before midnight.

TORNADOES CAUSE DEATHS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 7.—(UP)—Tornadoes had swept paths through four towns in widely separated sections of Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana today.

A preliminary check of results of the high winds revealed three dead and more than two score injured.

Property damage from the freak winds that swept down during the night appeared great, with livestock lost, many houses and farms damaged.

Fourth District Judges Indorsed For Re-election

ORANGE COUNTY BAR ASKS THAT NO OTHERS RUN

Indorsement of the three justices of the fourth district court of appeals for re-election and recommendation that no other candidates take the field against them were carried in a resolution adopted at a special meeting of the Orange County Bar association, held today in the courthouse. The three men, who were appointed to the bench of the court when it was created, last fall, W. A. Sloane, Charles R. Barnard and E. J. Marks, the latter a former Orange county superior judge, were invited to be candidates to succeed themselves.

The resolution characterized the decisions rendered by the court as sound and clear and a real addition to the judicial opinions and precedents of the state. It also was set forth that it appeared that the welfare of the state, and particularly of the counties comprising the fourth appellate district, would be best served by returning the present incumbents to their respective offices.

Text of Resolution
The text of the resolution follows:

"Whereas, the Justices of the Appellate Court of the State of California, Fourth Appellate District, to-wit, Presiding Justice W. A. Sloane and Associate Justices Charles R. Barnard and E. J. Marks, have, since their appointment, conducted the business of the court in a highly efficient and business-like manner, and have maintained the calendar of the court; and

"Whereas, the decisions rendered by the court are sound and clear, and a real addition to judicial opinions and precedents in this State; and

"Whereas, it appears to us that the welfare of the State of California, and particularly of those counties comprising the Fourth Appellate District, will be best subserved by returning these Justices to office;

"Now Therefore, Be It Resolved, that the Orange County Bar Association, in special meeting regularly called and assembled, does hereby indorse the Hon. W. A. Sloane for Presiding Justice, and the Hon. Charles R. Barnard and the Hon. E. J. Marks as Associate Justices for this Appellate Court; and

Urge That No Others Run
"Be It Further Resolved, that we, the Orange County Bar Association, respectfully invite the said Justices to be candidates to succeed themselves at the election this year; and

"Be It Further Resolved, that we respectfully urge and recommend that no other persons be candidates to oppose these Justices, or any of them; that they may be returned to office without opposition as a testimonial of the unanimous sanction of the Bar at large; and

"Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be spread in full upon the minutes of this meeting, and that a copy thereof be mailed to each of said Justices, and that a copy thereof, properly certified by the Secretary under the seal of this association, be forwarded to each Bar Association within said Fourth Appellate District, and that a copy thereof be given to the public press.

RCA VICTOR STARTS EXPANSION PROJECT

An expansion program involving the expenditure of more than seven and a half millions during 1930 is to be undertaken at once by the RCA Victor company, according to a statement by L. M. Turner, of the Turner Radio Store, Victor dealer here. More than five and a half millions of this sum will be spent for the construction of a new building, and mechanical equipment including machine tools, small tools, conveyors and other important items. The new building is to be used for the manufacture of radio parts, for radio assembly and shipping. In addition to this, over two million dollars' worth of equipment is being brought to Camden from the General Electric and Westinghouse plants for use in radio plant. Combined with the appropriation of $3,820,000, which was authorized last year and which is still being expended, the RCA Victor company by the end of 1930 will have made an outlay of $11,420,000 for plant expansion and development.

DENVER GIRLS ARE CENTER OF CIVIC DISPUTE

DENVER, March 7.—(INS)—The question is, should Denver women be supplied with police whistles to aid them in moments of stress, such as when a lad says, "Hello, cutie," or a footpad grabs a vanity box.

Chief of Police Reed says "No." Manager of Safety Hershey says, "Yes."

Chief of Police Reed wants the ladies to scream.

Manager of Safety Hershey wants the ladies to whistle. "A whistling woman and a crawling hen will always come to some bad end," Manager Hershey stands by his whistles.

And when somebody quotes, "Her voice was soft, gentle and low—an excellent thing in a woman," Chief Reed remains all for screaming.

"This police whistle idea for women is all wet," says the chief. "There's only one thing for a girl or woman to do when set upon by some tough egg—or even if she thinks the egg is tough enough to bother her. She should let out a scream at the top of her voice—a wild, blood-curdling scream. That'll bring more cops racing to her rescue than any old whistle siren or calliope."

But Manager Hershey, with a twinkle in his eye, holds out for whistles. "Sure," he says, "let the women have whistles. A great idea—and also give 'em a police club, or maybe, a brickbat. Any way, with all women armed with whistles, it should add to the musical culture of our city. There will be continuous whistling, and it will keep the police exercising, racing here and there."

HOWARD LEAVES CAPITAL

Closing his diplomatic career, Sir Esme Howard—for six years British ambassador to the United States—is pictured above, with Mrs. Howard, as they departed from Washington for New York en route to England. High government officials and foreign diplomats gathered at the railroad station to bid farewell to the distinguished envoy who, at 65, has retired under the British age law. He will be succeeded as ambassador by Sir Ronald Lindsay.

to spend their money for drink, now spend it for shoes, bread, meat, and comforts of life. The millions and millions that used to be spent for drink, are now passing through the channels of trade, and agriculture is getting its share."

Taber contended that prohibition has not had a fair chance under honest enforcement, and while admitting that arrests for drunkenness had increased in some sections, declared this was because a "new definition" had been placed on the term. As for adoption of the Quebec plan of handling liquor, Taber said "the American people will never submit to their government going into the liquor business." He predicted that the next congress would have increased dry majorities in both branches.

The grange official's statements regarding the benefits of the dry laws to farmers were supported by Representative Burtiness of North Dakota who said that since prohibition his State had been more prosperous than ever before, that savings had increased, the value of land diminished, and the value of crops had greatly increased. Burtiness presented a statement signed by many of his constituents contradicting the testimony of a North Dakotan who testified last week that prohibition had been a bad thing for the state, because of the reduction in the market for barley.

At the conclusion of today's hearing, Chairman Graham announced an adjournment to next Wednesday, when the dry forces will resume. They still have five full days in which to build up their side of the case.

SUGAR ENCLOSED STATE
LINCOLN, Neb., March 7.—(UP)—A fence composed of 100 pounds sacks of sugar that would enclose the state of Nebraska with enough left over to furnish 37 per cent of the annual consumption of sugar in the state represents the sugar production of Nebraska in 1929. Nebraska produced 294,000,000 pounds of sugar last year, the state and federal division of agricultural statistics reported.

FRENCH AUTHOR LAUDS TRAITS OF AMERICANS
PARIS, March 7.—(INS)—"The American people possess the most likeable and most precious qualities of modern humanity," writes Gaston Rageot in a recent number of 'L' Illustration.' "I refer to health, spirit, faith in success, a kind of chimeric positivism and mystical dynamism, a marked social sense, the need of teamwork, the true spirit of organization."

"The American is generous, always faithful and sincere. He loves France and especially the Frenchman. Unfortunately, one must add that he is also a bit proud, rather in a pitiful manner, for this pride is collective and has to do not with the individual, but with the country in general. It resembles that of the German."

Monsieur Rageot found that the American is brutal and rough in matters of business, just as he is playing football, but, personally, he is extremely delicate and susceptible. In general, it is difficult for Europeans to understand him, because they are not able to discern the right moment for being delicate or brutal.

The Frenchman emphasizes the fact that, in much less than one thinks from old Europe. Modern life has its rigorous laws and all people who have factories, railways, automobiles, radio and cinema, men and women who wear approximately the same fashions, all of them resemble each other more or less like brothers.

"The main characteristic of the actual epoch," concludes Monsieur Rageot, "is the predominance of economic forces. In America this predominance has become absolute; in Europe it is still relative. The whole question rests upon whether Europe is going to finish Americanizing itself, or if America will become Europeanized."

"Until now, one was inclined to believe in the former hypothesis, even outside the United States. Since October, 1929, one begins to foresee, even within the States themselves, the possibility of the second."

"Thus Europe is warned. If she does not hasten to make us of and assimilate all that is excellent in the modern American system, and if she does not make haste to modernize her methods of production etc., she will soon find herself before an America which is doubly powerful."

want him to come to my office," Grundy replied.

Under questioning by Senator Walsh, Doane said he had prepared data for Grundy in connection with various tariff schedules. When Walsh pointed out that Grundy has not made any senate speeches on the bill, the witness denied he had prepared speeches for any one else.

Blaine asked Doane if he had prepared some of the data for the speech made last Saturday by Senator Coff, Republican, West Virginia, attacking the Democratic-Western Republican coalition.

"No," Doane replied.

Blaine then brought out that Doane spends nearly all his time in Grundy's office.

"I assumed from Senator Grundy's statement yesterday that he was trying to give the impression you were only a casual visitor," Blaine said. "That is not correct, is it?"

"No."

The lobby committee room was crowded when the committee started calling Grundy's employees.

Doane, the first witness, is a man of between 45 and 50 years, rather of slight build with a mustache and glasses. He maintained a very serious expression throughout.

EARLY RETURNS ASSURED FOR WALNUT MEN

Walnut growers identified with the California Walnut Growers' association will receive by the latter part of April a distribution of $500,000 on culls and walnut meats and final payment on this season's crop will be made by next September, with the possibility of a small payment before that time, according to declarations by Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the association, at a meeting of Orange county growers held this afternoon in the city council chambers here.

The general manager also revealed that he had been offered a position as manager of the California Sunnyside Raisin association at a salary twice as large as that he is receiving from the walnut association.

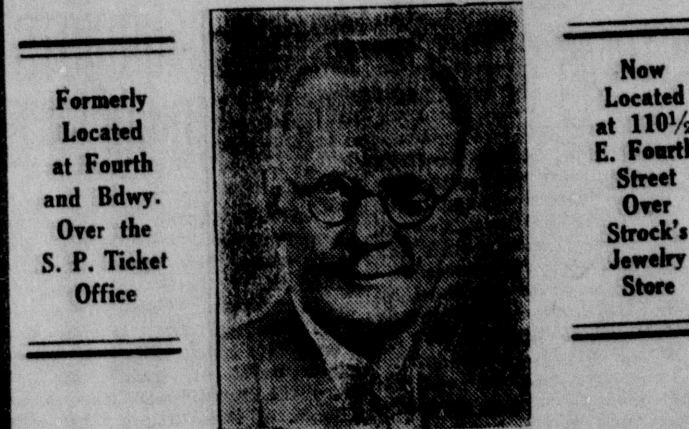

He said that he had declined the proposal because he would rather remain and fight the battles of the walnut men, as he has in the past, even though his salary is less than that he would receive by accepting the proffered position with the raisin producers.

More than 100 growers were in attendance at the meeting.

SANTA MONICAN CHARGED WITH DRIVING DRUNK

Charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, Joe B. Shepherd, of 233 Fourteenth street, Santa Monica, was due to face Justice Kenneth Morrison this afternoon as the result of his arrest in the Santa Ana hotel at 2:30 this morning.

Shepherd drove his car off the state highway two miles east of Seal Beach, shortly after midnight, "wrapping" the machine around a telephone post, according to Frank Vaughn, state traffic officer, who made the arrest.

Vaughn was called to the scene of the crash shortly after it had occurred, but learned that the driver had taken a bus to Santa Ana. He followed the man here and learned that he was in the Santa Ana hotel.

Vaughn reported that Shepherd refused to open the door to his room and that when officers opened it with a pass key furnished by the management, they found Shepherd attempting to get away through another door. He had lifted the door from the hinges, it was reported.

Shepherd was badly cut and bruised in the accident, his most serious injuries being about the ankles, which were badly swollen at the time he was arrested.

HURWITZ TO HEAD SCHOOL BOND DRIVE

Superintendent J. A. Cranston announced today that Sam Hurwitz, recently invited by the board of education to head a citizens' advisory committee in connection with the campaign for a $496,890 bond issue election, to be held April 3, had accepted the task and was busy getting the work organized.

Hurwitz was out of town today and could not be reached for a statement, but it is understood that he is selecting his assistants and mapping out a program for properly presenting the matter to the public.

Hurwitz, who headed a similar campaign last year, when the elementary school bond issue was adopted, was characterized by board members at the time of his selection as one of the ablest and best informed men in the city with reference to school matters.

FEW OUTSIDE STATIONS MAKE TWO-CENT CUT

A gasoline price war, which has broken out in various localities in Los Angeles during the last two days, threatened Santa Ana today, according to several dealers here.

Although there has been no general cut in prices here, particularly among the distributors of the best known brands, a few outside stations yesterday were reported selling their gasoline at 17-1/2 cents per gallon, two cents under the price that has prevailed here for some time.

Dealers throughout the city are keenly interested in the situation, however, many today expressing a hope that the war would be averted. All had heard of it and some even predicted that the next few days would see a cut in Santa Ana prices, particularly among the dealers selling gasolines of the smaller companies.

FARM BUREAU HITS ALLEGED 'WATER GRAB'

Directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau, in their afternoon session in the Farm Bureau offices yesterday, adopted a resolution containing a strenuous protest against the alleged efforts of the city of Long Beach to obtain water bearing lands in the Santa Ana river watershed. A copy of the resolution was forwarded to the city council in Long Beach.

A. A. Brock, county agricultural commissioner, appeared before the directors at their invitation and told them of the progress being made in the quarantine battle in California against fruit pests and the Mediterranean fruit fly in particular. He declared that the inspection of planes, which was recommended by the Farm Bureau, was being enforced with reference to regular transit planes, but was not effective with reference to privately operated planes. He stated that there still was some menace from this source. He also told the directors that there had been a new discovery of the fruit fly in the last few days in Orlando, Orange county, Fla.

R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, was authorized to contact H. H. Morrell, head of the new State Farm Bureau federation department of organization, to effect better co-operation between the state and county organizations, and to assist in membership campaigns. Flaherty stated today that he expected Morrell to visit Santa Ana within the next 30 days.

Local Briefs

The employment division of the Orange County Social Welfare department today appealed to ranch owners and employers of all kinds of labor for positions for men and boys. The division's listing includes men capable of doing work in almost any line and the welfare department stated that co-operation at this time will be doubly appreciated. Employers with openings for work were asked to telephone to Mrs. J. H. Leebrick, at 3000, asking for No. 7, or to call at the department offices, 812 North Sycamore street.

The Michigan people of Southern California are advised that their official picnic reunion will be held in Sycamore Grove park, on March 15, under the auspices of the Michigan association of Southern California. Announcements of town, county or local picnics will not change this regular annual event for all the Southland. Dr. M. R. Parnalee, president, and Dr. E. E. Haring, secretary of the association, are in charge of all the plans and arrangements for the day. The Wolverines of the whole west will be welcomed. All the picnic features will be carried out.

The Santa Ana Symphony orchestra will hold its regular rehearsal this evening from 7 to 8 o'clock at the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music.

Paul Bailey has been secured by the Water Conservation association to prepare detailed plans for the weir across the mouth of the Santa Ana canyon and for construction of a conduit to connect with the present spreading works of the Water Conservation association. The work is to be pushed as speedily as possible, with a view to letting a contract for the work as soon as all danger of spring freshets has passed.

E. T. Rowland, chief clerk for the Southern Counties Gas company here, addressed students of the Business Institute and Secretarial school, 415 North Sycamore street, yesterday, on "Office Efficiency."

Word was received here today of the death, yesterday, in Portsmouth, N. H., of Elwood Hammond, brother of Arthur Hammond, a sheet metal worker of this city. The cause of death was not given in information reaching here.

Poly Hi And Jaycee Notes

Baxter Geeting, well known orator and debater of Santa Ana junior college, was appointed today by George Warner, college student president, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Margaret Clifton, commissioner of forensics. Geeting formerly was commissioner of forensics and is well qualified to fill the position.

Dr. George L. Marsh, of Claremont, formerly a faculty member of an American college in Athens, who spoke to the Lions club, yesterday, also was the speaker in E. M. Nealey's college philosophy class yesterday. Dr. Marsh and Nealey are friends of long standing. Dr. Marsh's talk, concerning the famous old ruins of Greece, as well as the teaching field in Greece, was intensely interesting and was illustrated by a series of photographs taken by the speaker while he was in Athens.

Baxter Geeting and Miss June Arnold, Jaycee debaters, were judged victorious by a vote of 3 to 0 in a league debate last night with Long Beach junior college, held in the college hall here. The Santa Ana debaters, who were coached by U. Grant B. Meyer, supported the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That the Expansion of the Chain Store Systems Is a Detriment to the United States of America."

W WAISTLINE smoothness

ESSENTIAL TO THE NEW MODE

Only Luxite Bloomers and Panties with the patented NOBELT waistband offer the "waistline smoothness" the new mode demands.

Snug, but pressure free, you cannot feel this wide, resilient waistband . . . yet its super-elasticity keeps it in place. NOBELT retains its original smoothness after repeated washings, without the ugly bunching, wrinkling or curling of ordinary elastic.

Actual tests prove that NOBELT lasts as long as the garment . . . no elastic to change.

Buy some Luxite NOBELT styles today. Their "waistline smoothness" is essential as a foundation for the fitted bodice gowns and high waistlines of the new mode.

Dodge Mentioned For Supervisor In 5th District

Although friends have suggested to him that he enter the race for election to the board of supervisors to represent the fifth district, Donald J. Dodge, justice of the peace for the Newport Beach township and member of the Newport harbor high school board of trustees, stated today that it is not at all likely that he will become a candidate.

He said he had not made a definite decision in the matter, however. Other candidates in the field are Gene Fawcett, building inspector at Newport Beach; Stuart Lucas, of Corona Del Mar, and George Jeffrey, incumbent.

S. A. GUARD IS REDESIGNATED AS COMPANY L

Years ago, before the World war, the Santa Ana organization of the California National Guard was known as Company L. Many of the city's prominent citizens were members. Many of the boys who fought in France were members. Several who gave their lives on the battlefield were proud members of "old Company L."

But, with the coming of peace and its readjustments the Santa Ana company received a new designation—Company F.

All that had been changed again today and once more the Santa Ana organization has the letter it had for years prior to the war and during the conflict.

James B. Pettitt, second lieutenant of the company, announced that, according to orders received today, Company F would pass out of existence and the Santa Ana company once more would be known as Company L.

The Santa Ana infantry company will be part of a new infantry battalion, to be known as the third battalion, California National Guard.

Court Notes

Reappraisal in the inventory and appraisal of the estate of George L. West, which was filed today with County Clerk J. M. Backs, shows a value of $49,150.

Complaint to quiet title to a 14-acre orange grove was filed in superior court today by William Sandersfield against Andrew Deas, et al. The defendants include W. R. and Troy Morris, H. E. and Pamela W. Hunt, John H. and Maude Williams, some of whom are engaged in other litigation concerning the property in question, with reference to a contract for sale and an exchange deal in which this particular grove was involved.

Seeking to rescind the lease on property at 417-19 West Fourth street, held by Emory K. Tanaka, the First National bank of Santa Ana has brought suit against Tanaka. It is set forth in the complaint that the defendant leased a stall in the property, which is known as the Arcade, from the owner of the building on Nov. 7, 1927, for the purpose of conducting a business dealing in fruits and vegetables. The lease called for rent of $10 per month for the first three months and $40 per month for the balance of the contract. It is claimed in the complaint that the bank, which now is owner of the property, learned on February 4 that the defendant also was conducting on the premises a crockery business in violation of the terms of the lease.

An appeal from a judgment for the defendant in the Orange township justice court has been filed by the plaintiff in superior court in the action entitled Thomas E. Gruwell, et al. vs. L. R. Doncaster. The complaint alleges that the defendant wilfully and maliciously defamed, mutilated and otherwise injured and destroyed a building owned by the plaintiffs of a former value of $350 so that $295 of the value was lost. Judgment is asked for that amount. The property is located on North Main street.

'CONTINUATION EDUCATION' IS P.-T. A. TOPIC

In the absence of Mrs. R. W. Beall, president of the Junior college and high school P.-T.A., yesterday afternoon's meeting in the Y. hut was directed by Mrs. F. H. Heine.

A musical program provided an entertaining interval. One group of girls, studying French under Miss Thomas, appeared in costume and sang French songs. They were the Misses Helen Bowler, Vera Getty, Barbara Horton, Edwina Gilliland, Mary Fitzpatrick, Ruth Owen and Joy Best, with Miss Lillian Hurwitz as accompanist.

Miss Ruth Frothingham's Spanish class of girls, also in costume, added other songs. The class consists of the Misses Floretta Harman, Margaret Woods, Evelyn Wiebe, Dorothy Johnson, Thelma Shippe, Alice Bendlin, Betty Vorce, Iris Johnson, Lois Saldaña, Lucy Saldaña and Tonita Gonzalez, with Miss Audrey Dohne at the piano.

Mrs. Robert Northcross was named as chairman of a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. J. E. Snow, Mrs. W. W. Hoy, McKee Flisk and Miss Anna Trythall.

Richard Robbins, editor of the high school paper, the "Generator," and John Dunlap, editor of the "Don," the junior college publication, each gave an interesting talk on subjects allied to printing and publishing, supplemented by a third talk by T. E. Williams, of the faculty.

Lynn H. Crawford brought the program to a close with a talk on "Continuation Education," which he made both entertaining and instructive. The term "continuation education" he declared to be a new one, although the idea itself is old and has been employed under the name of part-time education.

In his talk, Crawford stated, "A law which has now been passed by the state legislature, and which goes into effect July 1, compels all minors under 18 to attend either full time school, or continuation school. If employed, he must attend at least four hours per week. If employed only part time, he must attend three hours per day.

"The boy who does not fit in the academic work should be trained in the vocational field. The idea is not to dissatisfy a person with his present job, but to make possible advancement in his job.

"Plans in Santa Ana are tentative yet. It is probable that we will have the continuation school in connection with our high school and junior college for a year or two until we know definitely what we need. Then we will build a separate plant for this institution."

TRESPASSING CHARGE

Manuel Valencia, of 1325 East Second street, was arrested by City Officers Perry and Dean, last night, for Orange officials, said to want him on a charge of trespassing.

W. F. HIGBY NOW IS SECRETARY OF T. B. GROUP

W. F. Higby, director of the social work department of the San Francisco Community Chest and formerly executive secretary of the San Francisco Tuberculosis association, has succeeded to the duties of secretary of the California Tuberculosis association, according to announcement received here. He took over the office on March 1, following acceptance of the resignation of Mrs. Edythe Tate Thompson, executive secretary for the last 15 years.

Announcement of the change was made by W. R. H. Hodgkin, president of the California association.

According to A. J. Cruickshank, a member of the state board of directors, the annual meeting of the association will be held in April, when, it is expected, the new constitution of the state association will become effective.

MOVIE MAKERS TO GIVE PLAY HERE

Assurance that Santa Ana will have the first chance to see the musical revue, "What! We Do Now?" being produced by the Santa Ana Movie makers, was given today in the announcement that the production would have its world premiere here March 27 and 28 at the Ebell club auditorium, in the form of a stage presentation.

Special permission was required from the Hollywood motion picture studio that will release the completed film, before the local group was allowed to give a public performance. The revue will make a national tour in talking picture form. The film will not be seen in Santa Ana for several months.

Special settings and stage effects will be installed in the auditorium. Clarence Cray and Doris Dolan, of Southern California radio fame, will appear here in person. Eddie Marble, KREG announcer, will make an appearance in the revue. Charlie Teas and his Kollegians will supply the music.

Delay Judgment On Woman Guilty Of Recklessness

Mrs. Roy Carlson, of 1205 South Mesa street, San Pedro, was found guilty of reckless driving in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court, this morning, but pronouncement of judgment was suspended for a period of six months.

Mrs. Carlson was the driver of a machine which crashed into another car in La Habra, several weeks ago. After striking the machine her car careened to one side of the road, striking State Officer Ray Bradfield's motorcycle, which was parked at the curb, and damaging it.

MODERNIZATION IN BUILDING STRESSED

A group of 68 persons gathered in Ketter's cafe at 6:30 p. m., yesterday to hear an address by Jack Dione, editor and publisher of the California Lumber Dealer, on the possibilities of modernization in homes and business structures. The talk was followed by a motion picture, illustrating the value of such work. A dinner preceded the lecture and showing of the film.

J. W. Estes sr., acted as chairman of the meeting. James Sewell sang several solos, accompanied by Miss Allien Lair. Among those present were C. A. Lansdowne, Elmer Steffensen, Charles F. Carlson, Charles F. Mitchell, C. M. Gilbert, Heriman Rosenberg, O. H. Barr, W. J. Kelly, former Superior Judge F. C. Drumm and Stanley Clem.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor Register:—It has been shown by government figures that the importation of foreign oil into the United States during 1929 was 109,000,000 barrels. This figure about 300,000 barrels a day. The present curtailment plans under the world wide conservation movement provide for cutting American oil slightly over 300,000 barrels a day. The cut in California is over 100,000 barrels a day.

The cold figures show that the cut in this country merely provides room for the foreign importations. America is the great market for crude oil and the big companies operating in foreign fields are given a slice of the American market through curtailment here. This piece of free trade, or no tariff pie, is worth $300,000 to the Shell, Standard and other companies bringing in foreign oil, which there is no other market than America that can absorb the constantly increasing flow from the foreign fields.

The curtailment program here is said to have been planned to encourage curtailment in foreign fields, as though American laborers and oil land royalty owners should care what happens to foreign fields. The Shell Oil company, a foreign company fighting for and getting a share of the American market for oil and gasoline and oil products, is being freely quoted as having announced that if the duty in the United States is effective, it, Shell Oil might consider cutting the importations of foreign oil to a curtailment somewhat approximating the curtailment here. American independent oil producers here resent this attitude of the Shell, which they claim should be forced to cut out all foreign oil shipments through the tariff, the means through which the United States has built American business and American standards of living and of wages and conditions of employment.

It is freely predicted here that unless a tariff is enacted at the present session of congress, the independent operators will break away from the conservation policy, which it is clearly shown means nothing but making room for continued importations of foreign oil. They claim there can be no good come from conservation at home as long as foreign oil produced by cheap labor is dumped here by the foreign companies and the American companies. Oil companies operate strictly as profit making corporations and sentiments of patriotism in no sense enter in the least in their scheme of operations, nor are they worried about oil fields here shutting down as long as the foreign fields make them more money.

The oil companies use the plea of conservation of our great natural resources as a bait to lure support for their plans of profit making. Through this plea they have prevented passage of a tariff on oil. The support for them came mostly from the north central states of the United States, the great farming belt and industrial belt areas, where cheap oil and cheap gas is the cry, no matter where it comes from or what disaster it may create in other sections of the United States.

Under conservation in this field, more derricks are idle, more men out of jobs, more well abandoned, and more stagnation prevails than at any time before in the history of the field. This conservation policy emanating though it does out of Washington, bolstered by the most powerful financial and political influences in the United States, cannot stand against the growing public sentiment for a duty on oil and an adequate protective tariff on refined products of crude oil.

Action Without Harm Whenever Constipated

Here's a way to be rid of constipation and its ills—a way that works quickly, effectively, but gently.

A candy Cascaret at night—the next morning you're feeling fine. Breath is sweetened; tongue cleared; biliousness, headaches, dizziness, gas vanish. Repeat the treatment two or three nights to get the souring waste out of your system. See how appetite and energy return; how digestion improves.

The action of Cascarets is sure, complete, helpful to everyone. They are made from cascara, which doctors agree actually strengthens bowel muscles. All drug stores have the 10c boxes. Adv.

Bakersfield Man Is Arrested For County Officers

H. G. White, Bakersfield man, has been arrested in Bakersfield and is being held there for Orange county officers on a check charge. Deputy Sheriff Harry Carter left here at noon today for Bakersfield, to return the prisoner to Santa Ana for trial.

According to the complaint in the case, White gave a check to G. C. Murphy, of Santa Ana, on Dec. 23, 1929, for $154.20, on which Murphy was unable to realize cash.

Police News

Willard C. Sweet, of La Habra, was arrested there yesterday by Jess Buckles, deputy sheriff, and is being held in the county jail on a charge of non-support.

Sheriff's officers today were seeking a man wanted in connection with the reported theft of an automobile, yesterday, in Fullerton. The car was the property of the Waggoner-Yates company, of Fullerton, and was reported stolen from in front of the Hilderbrand Shows, now playing there.

William Hancock, 20, of 340 Riverside street, and Denner Hyder, of 1402 West Sixth street, were arrested by Santa Ana police yesterday for the district attorney's office, where they are wanted for questioning. It was reported.

ISSUE BENCH WARRANT

A bench warrant was issued this morning in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court for W. D. Bethea, who failed to appear in court early today to answer to a charge of transportation of intoxicating liquor. He was arrested by Harry Carter, deputy sheriff, on February 17. At the time of the arrest Bethea is asserted to have had 11 quarts of whiskey in his automobile.

SENTENCES OF YEAR IN JAIL GIVEN TWO MEN

Two jail sentences of one year each, two others of 30 days each, two continuances and one dismissal resulted from court action on the criminal calendar in superior court before Presiding Judge G. K. Scovel today.

Harry Martin and Fred Carter drew the heaviest jail sentences. Martin previously had entered a plea of guilty to a charge of issuing bank checks with intent to defraud and made application for probation. The court denied probation and sentenced Martin to serve one year in the county jail. Carter was up on a hearing for revocation of probation, which previously had been granted by the court on his plea in connection with a grand theft charge. Carter, in the meantime, has been convicted of a violation of the liquor laws, thus violating his probation, and the court modified the probation by ordering the defendant into custody of the sheriff for one year.

Marvin Stroud and Carl Hudson were the other prisoners to draw jail sentences. The terms of 30 days each were part of the conditions of probation granted by the court following their pleas of guilty to charges of grand theft and application for probation. The prisoners were charged with theft of an automobile in Santa Ana for use on a trip from Oakland to Tucson, Ariz. Probation granted by Judge Scovel is for a period of two years, during which they are not to leave the state.

Cases of H. V. Harrison, charged with issuing fictitious checks, and K. W. McMillan, charged with a statutory offense, were continued for one week.

The case of Harvey Counts, charged with being an intemperate user of alcohol, was dismissed after persons bringing the charges told the court they desired to withdraw them.

EDDIE MARBLE SINGS TWICE ON KREG TONIGHT

BY THE RADIO EDITOR

Everett Hoagland and His Troubadors, playing tonight for the dancers in the Rendezvous ballroom, in Balboa, will put their snappy dance music on the ether waves from 10 to 11 o'clock by remote control over KREG, the official broadcasting station of The Register and the "Voice of the Orange Empire." Two all-request programs, sung by "Smilin' Eddie" Marble, will be added features on tonight's schedule of entertainment.

A half hour studio program, from 4 to 4:30 will get tonight's entertainment under way and the Children's Hour with Inez Moore will come from 4:30 to 5 o'clock. The Shoppers' Guide musical program will follow, from 5 to 6 o'clock, and that will be succeeded by the nightly Cambria Pines period, from 6 to 6:15, presenting "Dad" Mitchell and his old-time orchestra.

The J. C. Penney company dinner hour, from 6:15 to 7, tonight will offer an array of unusually fine talent, including Doris Buffington, soprano; Hugh Chester, accordion, and Lillian Backus, soprano. The news dispatches will come in their regular place, from 7 to 7:15, and a program of classical music will fill the 7:15 to 7:30 period.

Another of the orations on "The Citizens' Amendment," and this one delivered by Orestel Long, Garden Grove high school girl, who reached the finals in the contest conducted in the county high schools by The Register, will go on the air at 7:30.

Jessie Johnson, vocal soloist, will be on the air from 7:45 to 8 and the 8 to 8:30 hour will bring the Moreland Merry Makers, exponents of old-time music.

The Moreland Truck period will be followed, from 8:30 to 8:45, by "Steiner's Grasscutters," and at 8:45 will come an orchestra program of old-time and modern dance music brought through the courtesy of the Karl Shoe Store.

"Smilin' Eddie" Marble will put his first all-request program on the air at 9:15 and from 9:30 to 10 he will sing a program for the Peggy Shop, which will hold its grand and formal opening here tomorrow. Hoagland's Troubadors will close the night's entertainment, from 10 to 11, with a remote control program from the Rendezvous.

Jefferson Glee Club To Sing On Kiddies' Program

The glee club of Jefferson school, trained and directed by Helen Glancey, is to present the program, from 4:30 to 5 o'clock this afternoon, during the Children's Hour with Inez Moore over KREG, "Voice of the Orange Empire."

The club, which is to be assisted by Bobby Warling, young harmonica player, includes the following members: Walter Ranney, Lyndon Carmen, Kenneth Oliphant, Jack Gardiner, Delbert Ridgeway, Horace Evans, Ferris Wall, Harold Lambert, Barney Spicer and Tommy Ham.

The largest single country in the world is Brazil, with 3,220,000 square miles; China comes next with 3,000,000 square miles.

FIELD TRIP IS PLANNED FOR KREG STUDENTS

Plans for an interesting field trip, during which the students in her KREG radio class on "Bird Life" may get first-hand information on many of the feathered folk they have heard discussed over the air, were announced during the class period last night by Meta C. Daniel, radio instructor and professor of biology in the Santa Ana high school. The trip is to be made in response to numerous requests for aid in identifying various birds.

The field trip, which will be made Wednesday, will take the place of next week's radio class on "Bird Life," which usually is conducted by Miss Daniel on Thursday night. The students are asked to provide for their own transportation and meet at 3:30 p. m., at the corner of Pine and Barton streets, from when they will motor to Irvine park.

The group will meet at the store in the park and the instructor will remain with her students, conducting their studies, until 5 o'clock. After that time they will be on their own responsibility. Those who have field glasses are urged to take them along.

D. K. Hammond, high school principal, has given Miss Daniel permission, should the weather prevent outside study, to invite the class to her schoolroom, No. 58 in the science building of the high school, corner of Pine and Barton streets, for an hour's work starting at 3:30. There, museum specimens, pictures and books will be available.

Last night's "Bird Life" study included a discussion of birds to be found in Irvine park at this time and those listed as park residents were:

Brewer blackbird, bush-tit, mountain bluebird, coot (mud hen), western crow, red-shafted flicker, green-backed goldfinch, marsh hawk, California heron (great blue), red-tailed hawk, rough-legged hawk, sharp-shinned hawk, sparrow hawk, Anna hummingbird, California jay, thurber junco, Arkansas knighbird, linnet or house finch, western meadowlark, western mockingbird, black phoebe, California quail, road-runner, California shrike, Gambel sparrow, rufous-crowned sparrow, song sparrow, western lark sparrow, California thrasher, Alaska hermit thrush, Anthony towhee, San Diego Towhee, turkey vulture, Audubon warbler, Cabanis woodpecker, California woodpecker, pallid wren-tit, San Diego wren.

Miss Daniel last night informed her students that bird and nature study pictures in natural colors, which will aid them greatly in their studies, can be secured, at reasonable prices, ranging from 42 cents for 14 to $2.50 per 100, from Joseph H. Dodson, Inc., publisher of Mumford pictures, in Kankakee, Ill. Order blanks may be obtained upon application.

Gladys Yule, owning more than $90,000,000, is said to be the richest woman in Great Britain.

Radio announcers
Use a lot of Words 'off the air'
That they don't dare
Put 'on the air'.
But lest we
Be misunderstood let Us explain right
Now that the words we Refer to are not, Necessarily, Naughty words—
The ban, therefore, is Not a question of Morals, but rather
One of diction—
'Bad air words,' or Words difficult to Pronounce before the Microphone and equally
As difficult to Understand before the Speaker, are Discovered daily by
Our announcers.
Who must find Suitable substitutes
Which will not
'Blow up the mile'—
For instance, the words,
'General Railway Signal,'
Which come in the Daily stock quotations
And therefore cannot Be encircled with
A substitute, every so Often reach the Listener as
'General Railway Signal'—
Words known as Explosive consonants
Are 'bad air words,' as,
For instance,
'Indubitably,' which,
Difficult under any Circumstances, makes the Gulvanometer needle
Jump all over the Transmitter dial—
'Apathetic' is another
Tough one for Broadcast purposes
And 'peep,' 'offensive'
As it appears,
Almost tips the Microphone over—

CONCENTRATE FOR SUCCESS. URGES FRITCH

Dr. Wilson Fritch spoke on "Concentration," and what it can do for the individual, in his address, last night, over KREG, official broadcasting station of The Register. Dr. Fritch appeared on the regular Dana Point program and said, in part:

"Success, and by success I mean living a useful, satisfying, joyful life, is fundamentally a mental problem. Thoughts are not only things; they are creators of things. Concentration is the mastering of the mind, the marshalling of all the mental forces to one point or along one channel of action. Mind determines all exterior expression; concentration is therefore the key of power. To produce the greatest results concentration must be absolute, intense and persevering."

"By absoluteness of concentration I mean centering the mind on one idea, to the exclusion of all else; to make the mind one-pointed. This is not easy, when you try to hold one idea, likely a thousand thoughts and emotions sweep across the mind, but if you bring yourself resolutely back to the idea, it is less and less shaken, until at last it stands in the mind like a rock in the sea, unshaken by the waves that beat upon it."

"Intensity is the next requisite; pour all your mental energy into the idea you wish to express. Then,

Anyone with the slightest trace of a lisp finds an immediate enemy in a microphone. Which, after all, is just an unbiased bit of mechanism. The antenna probably would collapse if a lisping radio performer should try to say, 'Sixty-sixth in a series of serious sessions'— we must persevere. The difference between the man who is indifferently successful and the man who is very successful is often at this point; the former carries the endeavor to the ten thousandth degree and stops short of great success; the latter proceeds a few steps further and reaps supreme reward.

"One of two men thus concentrated upon building a seaside recreational city beautiful that should rank with the first in the world. Their mental energy with corresponding action brought to them 135 like minded men and women with millions in resources and a few hundred of the finest real estate representatives of the southwest, with results that at Dana Point, where a few years ago there was nothing but land and sea, there are now miles of most substantial streets with all utilities in, an ample water system, scores of beautiful homes and thousands from near and far have expressed their confidence by purchasing property for homes, business or investment."

Scientists have declared that the maximum population the world can support is 6,000,000,000, and that this limit may be reached in two centuries.

Single prescription made a family doctor famous

SELDOM has any single act been of greater benefit to mankind than the one which Dr. Caldwell performed back in 1885 when he wrote the prescription which has carried his fame to the four corners of the earth.

Over and over, Dr. Caldwell wrote this prescription as he found men, women, and children suffering from those common symptoms of constipation, such as coated tongue, bad breath, headaches, gas, nausea, biliousness, poor appetite, or lack of energy, etc. And it invariably relieved these symptoms so much more pleasantly, so much quicker than other things, that his patients simply had to tell other people about it.

tion grew so fast that by 1888 Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it put up ready for use and supply drug stores with it. Today you can get the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, at all drug stores.

When you or your children suffer from any of the symptoms of constipation, it will pay you to remember this safe, pleasant-tasting, effective laxative; made only from herbs and other pure ingredients; a real corrective for constipation. A doctor's 47-year experience behind this formula!

HUMAN VANITY DISCLOSED IN STATE REPORT

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—(UP)—The extent of human vanity in California was disclosed recently in a report to Governor Young, showing that more than 32,000 persons are employed in this state to attend to the facial welfare of its men and women.

This figure includes 15,070 persons licensed as cosmetologists, who give beauty treatments to women, dress their hair and work in beauty parlors. In addition, there are 17,712 men employed as barbers to keep the masculine beard shaven, hair trimmed and do shampooing and massage.

Arizona has asked California's aid, reports Mrs. Pearl Newman, president of the board of cosmetology, in administering its state law regulating "beauty specialists." The Arizonans, she said, "felt that California had rather forced the law upon them, for the quacks and fly-by-nights left California when informed they had to have the equivalent of an eighth grade education in order to operate."

Hawaii is also following California's lead in regulating its beauty specialists, Mrs. Newman said.

BOYS MAKE TRIP TO SNOW REGION

Scouts of Troop 24, sponsored by the Rotary club, today were recalling pleasing incidents of their recent week end trip to the snow line at the Los Angeles county park. The troop members, 22 in number, were taken to the park by Scoutmaster Warner, W. H. Spurgeon Jr., Walter Vandermast and Bob Chapman.

Tobogganing, skiing, sledding and snow fighting were among the sports enjoyed by the group.

WHERE MRS. O'LAUGHLIN'S PETS DIED

HONER IS NAMED IN DAMAGE CASE

Allison C. Honer, Santa Ana contractor, was named as a defendant in a damage action filed yesterday in superior court by Lonie M. Crow, in which a total of $25,322 is asked by the plaintiff.

The injuries and damages for which remuneration is sought are alleged to have occurred in a collision on December 30, 1929, at the intersection of Fifth street and Forest avenue in Santa Ana, between cars said to have been driven by Jane D. Allison and Mrs. L. C. Olson. The plaintiff was a passenger in the Olson car, it is stated.

It is alleged that the plaintiff received severe injuries to her back, hip and neck and that she received numerous bruises and contusions and sustained a severe nervous shock. General damages are asked in the amount of $25,000 and special damages are itemized as $300 for hospital and medical services and $22 for damage to eye glasses worn at the time of the crash.

MEDICOS' LEGAL TILT HINGES ON POPULATION OF LA HABRA

The population of La Habra today had become a point at issue in the damage suit launched against Dr. O. S. Parrett by Dr. D. L. Burgeson, who is seeking $8000 damages for asserted breach of a contract between the two physicians, both of whom live in La Habra.

In his complaint Dr. Burgeson claimed that the agreement, under which he asserted he leased his practice to Dr. Parrett for a stated period, provided that the latter was to leave La Habra at the expiration of that time if the population of the city had not reached 6000. The complaint said Dr. Parrett had refused to depart.

Dr. Parrett, in his answer, asserted that Dr. Burgeson did not observe a clause in the contract providing he should not practice in La Habra during the period of the contract, and that Dr. Burgeson asserted that the document should be considered as a scrap of paper. In his complaint Dr. Burgeson claimed that $3000 of the $8000 which he asked, was due him on a commission basis from fees received by Dr. Parrett.

BREA C. OF C. HEARS OF AIRPORT PROJECT

BREA, March 7.—An airport may be established here in the near future, according to a report given by H. M. Massey at the chamber of commerce luncheon, held Wednesday in the Olsen and Dyer cafe. If the airport is decided upon, a beacon light for the field will be provided by one of the local oil companies.

President Hogue presided over the meeting, about 24 being present. H. A. McClatchie and daughter, Miss Una, of Yorba Linda, were guests. Mr. Hogue and Mr. McClatchie reported on the Imperial highway road meeting held in La Habra Friday evening.

O. A. Andrews, vice principal at Brea-Olinda high school, announced that Friday evening the combined glee clubs will present their annual operetta, "The Bell of Bagdad." Eighty-five are taking part in the play, which is under the direction of Miss Louise Chapman, musical director; Mr. Stuelke, dramatics, Miss Ruth Goodwin, costumes, and Mrs. Elsie Guy, director of the dancing.

Crs. Stella Keen, announced that the next evening meeting of the body will be held at the high school cafeteria and the P.T.A. is to have charge of the dinner and program.

Nine Months Old Baby Is Whistler

DALLAS, Texas, March 7.—(UP)—Although he is only nine months old and, quite naturally, can't talk yet, Bobby Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kivett, is an accomplished whistler. And a veteran he is, too, having learned the art at least two months ago. Not only does he whistle for his own amusement, but, properly persuaded, will do solo numbers—slightly off key, perhaps—for the entertainment of admiring friends.

WILL BE POPULAR

PORT HURON, Mich., March 7.—Youthful prisoners of the Michigan reformatory at Ionia will be better off than some free persons. A new prison to be built for them will have apartments of five and six rooms, including a living room for each apartment. Formerly, in the old dormitory system, 20 to 40 prisoners bunked together.

L. B. ORCHESTRA IN CONCERT SATURDAY

LAGUNA BEACH, March 7.—The Laguna Beach Little Symphony orchestra will give its first pay concert Saturday evening, when Miss Anna Priscilla Risher offers the public a program of five groups of numbers.

Assisting the orchestra is Nellie Schwankovsky and as a special number, a quartet of Helen Caldwell, Harold Ahern, Mrs. J. O. Chilton and George Ewing will sing.

Plans are being made for the concert which is to be given in April, when Charles Wakefield Cadman will be soloist. Mr. Cadman, as a personal friend of Miss Risher, has consented to be the main attraction at that time.

In the concert to be given Saturday evening, the Parent-Teacher association is assisting in order to assure success. The purpose is to raise funds to pay for stage settings purchased.

GOOD WILL TOPIC

ORANGE, March 7.—Jeffrey Morgan, of Santa Monica, addressed the Lions club at the regular meeting on Wednesday at the American Legion hall. Mr. Morgan chose as his subject, "Good Will," bringing out the fact of good will between employer and employee solved many of the problems between them. Mr. Morgan and A. Haven Smith were teachers in the Riverside high school for a number of years.

"A Tonic I Recommend"

Modesto, Calif. —"Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a tonic that I frequently recommend because it was of so much benefit to me years ago. I was then a young woman but malarial weakness and bronchial trouble made me feel like an old one. I could scarcely drag around to attend to household duties when I started to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. But seven bottles of it rid me entirely of all malarial symptoms and gave me strength and endurance. It also helped my bronchial trouble a great deal." — Mrs. A. H. Pemberton, 106 Spruce St. All dealers. Tablets or liquid. Write Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice.

PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

ORANGE, March 7.—George Sherwood, superintendent of Orange schools, addressed the Center street P.T.A. in the kindergarten room Wednesday. Elsie Ruth Chase gave a program from the first grade pupils. The Laguna art exhibit was the subject of Mr. Sherwood's address and the pictures were on exhibition. Fathers' night was announced for next Tuesday. Tea was served by the first grade mothers with the St. Patrick motif in evidence.

NEEDS NO TRIAL

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 7.—C. J. Williams had enough charges thrown at him to last a lifetime. He and his auto went out for a spin one nice day and when he finished he was charged with the following: Reckless driving; running into another automobile; failing to stop after the accident; running into another automobile and failing to stop; exceeding the speed limit; operating a car under the influence of liquor, and being drunk.

BILL ASKS CURB AGAINST LOUD SPEAKER NOISE

ALBANY, N. Y., March 6.—State Senator Benjamin Antin, Democrat, of the Borough of the Bronx, in New York city, has introduced a bill providing that it shall be a misdemeanor for any person to operate radios, phonographs, or other sound-producing devices in such manner as to disturb the quiet or public peace.

Senator Antin said that he was trying to assist Dr. Shirley W. Wynne, New York health commissioner, and the commissioner's notice abatement commission in New York city. The bill is especially aimed at radio stores that operate loud-speakers on the sidewalks with such volume that they disturb people in buildings nearby, and even in the streets.

In commenting on the bill he had introduced, Senator Antin expressed the belief "that those who seek to operate amplifying sound devices from the front of stores should do so only under proper licenses to be issued by the proper officials, and that none should be permitted to operate within 250 feet of schools, churches and hospitals while these institutions are in use."

Radio Is Called Great Assistance In Crime Battle

WASHINGTON, March 6.—If cities continue adopting radio cruisers as an aid in apprehending criminals, there won't be a safe place for a crook to ply his trade, says Police Lieutenant Kenneth Knox, of Chicago, who recently appeared before the Radio Commission.

While there are only about 25 cities using or contemplating use of this system at present, Knox foresees the likelihood of more than 500 cities, with populations of 20,000 and over, making application to the commission for such permission.

Knox fears that this demand for wave lengths will bring about "chaotic conditions."

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, March 7.—Miss Maude Ferguson, of San Diego, has been spending several days in the W. D. Threlkeld home, in the Vernon Cameron, of Warm Springs, Ore., who is now stationed in Los Angeles, spent Thursday afternoon with her brother, Gordon Cameron.

Miss Ferguson, 35, arrived Thursday to stay with her sister, Mrs. C. V. Smothers, until June. Miss Hibbs will attend school while here.

Mrs. Sarah Humphreys, 55, aunt of Mrs. E. M. Sutton, is improving nicely at the county hospital. She suffered a broken hip bone in a fall last week. For several days she remained unconscious and little hope was held for her recovery.

The cheetah is used for hunting in India.

Dr. Wynne by reminding his listeners at 11 p. m. that they should turn their loud-speakers down so as not to disturb the neighbors who at that time may be trying to sleep. The announcement mentions that it is pursuant to a request from Dr. Wynne.

themselves to booking agents. Stage actors used to ballyhoo for jobs. Now a booking agency of New York is buying radio time of WOR, Newark, for the purpose of advertising their actors.

Radio has a Russian entertainer who, strangely enough, does not claim to be of the exiled nobility. In fact, from her name, one wouldn't think she came from Russia. Anne Briggs, of the Columbia Farm Community work, Chicago, was formerly Anya Kucerna of Moscow. She married in the United States and the name changed to Anne Briggs. She played in the movies and on the legitimate. In radio she's known as "The Girl of Many Voices."

New series on the air: Crowley - Milner Couriers, WJR, Detroit, Mondays at 6:30, EST. "Memories of Long Ago," WGBS, New York, Fridays at 8:30, EST. "Health for the Whole Family," CBS Farm Network, Mondays at 12:20, GST. "The Miniature Theater," NBC Blue Network, New York, Saturdays at 10:30, EST.

Not only does he write "The Cub Reporter" for a weekly 15 minutes on the NBC network, but with his wife, the former Aline Berry of stage fame, P. W. H. "Pete" Dixon, of NBC's New York staff, enacts all the parts played in each skit. By the way, four or six characters of the budding newspaperman of the air have been experienced by "Pete" himself during an extensive newspaper career to which he lent all his efforts before entering radio.

"Sportsman," Ted Husing's popular feature over CBS network, has been renewed by popular demand. Husing plans to get every prominent sports writer in the country to contribute to his air offering in the new series.

Sparks from the ether: Eva La Garrienne is ambidextrous, Columbia system reports. Lynn Gearhart of WIBC, Chicago, wanted to be a singer, but the director wanted him to be an announcer—he is. . . . WOR, Newark, says that Johnny Buss, orchestra leader, will soon be as popular as Vallee. . . . Nat Shilkret recently celebrated his 20th birthday as director of the Eveready hour. . . . Merle Johnson, CBS saxophonist, never varies his lunch menu of a baked apple and coffee.

Adding salt to the wound: Just after we thought "Piccolo Pete" had been squelched, along comes a new musical offering, "Harmonica Joe," which threatens to become as obnoxious as the former song was.

MARRIAGE CLINIC LOS ANGELES, March 7.—A group of educators, sociologists and jurists have banded here to form the Institute of Family Relations. In the hopes of righting many matrimonial tangles. The work of the institute will consist of public education, personal service and research. Individual cases will be handled by the clinic.

N. G. FOR FAT MEN GENEVA, N. Y., March 7.—Voting machines are no good for fat men, as Geneva police recently found out. In a recent election a machine was used. The machine, not at all popular, was used by a man weighing 400 pounds. He got in, but couldn't get out until police wrecked the machine. The voting was continued next day by the ballot system.

VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, March 7.—Charles Reisch and family, of San Fernando, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Reisch.

Capt. Joseph Zeising and family, of Los Angeles, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Ford Saturday and Sunday.

Friends of Mrs. M. R. Furns will be glad to know that she is improving nicely at the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sharer were recent visitors in Imperial valley.

Charles Gillogly and friend, of Orange, spent Saturday in Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Newman and daughter, Ruth, of Hemet, spent a few days with Mrs. Anne Caldwell.

BOARD UNJUST NO 'HOLES' IN TO LABOR. SAYS CROSELEY RADIO WCFL COUNSEL MUSIC. CLAIM

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Organized labor is being denied its entitled position in the air by the repeated refusal of the federal radio commission to give WCFL, Chicago, a cleared channel, said Hope Thompson, counsel for the American Federation of Labor, addressing the senate interstate commerce commission. He asserted WCFL is engaged in educational work, in spreading labor's gospel, and is not to be compared with stations that stress entertainment, such as jazz.

Too Great for This "Radio is too great a thing to be used purely for entertainment," added Mr. Thompson. "It reaches the heartstrings of nearly every American home. Why should it be used to sing 'Old Pal' all the time, or pound the air with jazz music? This marvelous power that can help the people is just being prostituted."

He repeated his charge that a virtual monopoly of the air exists, and said the "powers that be" not only have all the choice frequencies, but are so influential congressmen, not dared to face the labor should be given one free and clear at high power, he argued, whereas WCFL is restricted to daylight reception on 1500 watts, a denial to labor of a national mouthpiece for its principles.

Wants No Domination "I think it would be of greatest importance that this entire field of communications be kept entirely free of private domination," said Mr. Thompson. "The person or group which controls radio broadcasting in the years to come will control this nation."

Mr. Thompson said he believed it to be the duty of congress to save broadcasting "from where it is going," but he declared that "it has got away from you already."

The Federation also was blocked in its efforts to establish a short wave chain for relaying, a plan based on the granting of a cleared channel to WCFL.

WCFL's appeal from the WCFL assignment is now before the circuit court of appeals.

RADIO ENDS MULE MESSENGER 'BOYS'

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The Southern Radio Corporation, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, is now engaging in direct radio communication between the United States and the jungles of Bolivia where the Standard Oil Co. has extensive oil holdings.

Previous to the establishment of the radio circuit about six months ago, the Standard Oil Company sent its messages to Buenos Aires by cable, thence by a telegraph line and finally by "mule back" to the oil fields.

Sometimes as long as two weeks elapsed between the time the message was filed in New Jersey and the time of delivery. With the radio circuit the communication is practically instantaneous.

PHONE-RADIO NOT NEW Radio by telephone is no innovation. "Wired wireless" programs have been going on in Holland for some time, subscribers receiving a choice of four programs for an annual service fee of seven dollars.

One ton of coal can be made to yield 10,000 cubic feet of gas, 1300 pounds of coke, and 10 gallons of tar.

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should know about Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently, but certainly to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding, and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book, "Useful Information." It will be sent you, FREE. Write The Phillips Co., 117 Hudson St., New York, N. Y.

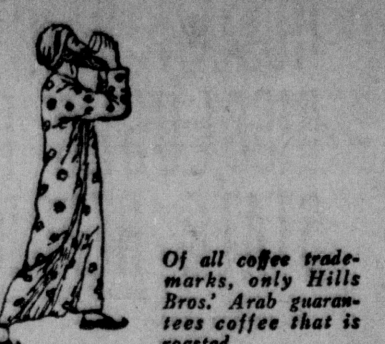

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875—Adv.

LOVE ALWAYS FINDS A WEIGH

A little thing like 300 pounds difference in weight couldn't swerve the course of true love, and that explains how Harold Penrod who weighs 397 pounds, and Miss Marie Reederer came to be married in Columbus, O., the other day. Penrod is a grocery clerk.

PROFESSOR IN PLEA AGAINST UNIFORM LIFE

By HARRY SHARPE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
COLUMBUS, March 7.—(UP)—A life of the average man, in the opinion of Dr. William L. Graves, professor of English at Ohio State University, is epitomized by the following:

He got him a job.
He married a wife.
He bought him a car.
And was fixed for life.

The average man, Professor Graves believes, is living in the materialism of a noisy, mechanical civilization and if he would save himself he must draw away from the machinery of existence which "tends to destroy his capacity for much that is finest in life."

Prof. Graves, a general favorite among the 10,000 students at Ohio State, addressed the graduating class.

"Jobs you must have," said the instructor, "but you are trained for those; and wives you will take whether or not you are trained for matrimony; and automobiles, well—I read of one man who traded his wife for a used car."

"Domestic happiness is not enough nor are all such pleasures as are typified by the symbols of swift transportation, physical excitement, personal risk and danger. If your capable and materially successful life is to be given breadth and richness and color, if you are to achieve magnanimity as well as wealth and power, if art and music are to lend their indispensable aid in making you a cultivated person, if, in a word, you are to enjoy the enlarged happiness that only culture can give, you will have to save yourself, even desperately, from some of the things that will tend to draw you into the machinery of existence and destroy your capacity for much that is finest in life."

Dr. Graves assailed current entertainments as "fit for, and one might almost say planned for, morons;" the idea of appreciating beautiful skyscrapers solely in terms of office space; the current public taste in books and magazines; and the momentary appreciation of the romance in the discovery flights of a great aviator and will the next hour respond just as eagerly to the voice of a broadcaster dramatizing with shouts, whispers, and almost with sobs, the story of a prize fighter.

He urged each student to maintain within himself "a quiet place where the sense of beauty and dignity may spring to fruit, that they may cling to their own individualities in the current of an almost irresistible sweep towards uniformity."

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The eleven public land states of the West to which the government has turned over about 45,000,000 acres, derived a revenue of more than $2,500,000 through grazing fees during 1929, according to reports to the Interior Department.

"That there are profits in the ownership of grazing lands is indicated in the reports," Secretary Wilbur said.

D. C. Babbitt, Arizona Land Commissioner, reported his office collected $302,556 for rentals and leases of surface rights of lands during last year.

Raymond Miller, of the Colorado Land Commission, reported his office receipts of $642,024; I. H. Nash, Idaho Land Commissioner, reported receipts of $189,752; I. M. Brandford, Montana Land Commissioner, reported revenues of $423,000 and C. V. Savidge, Washington Land Commissioner, reported receipts of $350,709.

Nevada Sells Lands

The Secretary of State Lands for Utah reported receipts of $48,448; C. M. Cox, Wyoming Land Commissioner, reported receipts of $241,626 for rentals, $212,506 from sale of state lands and interest on funds due from sales $94,590.

"The State of Nevada does not lease state lands but sells them outright; 78 per cent of the area of the state is still in public domain," the report said.

"Oregon and California have sold practically all their state lands and the return from those that remain is inconsequential. There is still in many of the states from one to five times as much public lands as that which has heretofore been given them and most of which they have sold."

Retain 190,000,000 Acres

The report said that in public land states there is still about 190,000,000 acres to which the government has retained title—four times as much as already has been ceded to them.

The figures by States of land already received and that which might be turned over to them are as follows: Arizona has received 8,000,000 acres and there are 16,000,000 acres of Government land still in her borders; California has received 5,500,000 acres and might get 20,000,000 acres more; Colorado has received 3,700,000 and there are 8,000,000 more; Idaho 3,000,000 yet available; Nevada 2,000,000 as against 53,000,000; New Mexico 4,400,000 as against 16,000,000; Oregon 2,400,000 as against 13,000,000; Utah 6,000,000 to 25,000,000; Washington 2,400,000 to 1,000,000; Wyoming 3,500,000 as against 17,000,000.

Soft, lovely hair!

The modern artist hair-dresser can do wonderful things with your hair. But all your hair-needs can not be supplied in the beauty shop. You must help at home. And that's where Danderine comes in. Danderine is so simple and easy to use. Each time you arrange your hair just put a little of this delicately fragrant liquid on your brush. As you draw it through the hair, Danderine removes excess oil, cleanses, brings out the natural color, gives your hair an amazing new lustre.

Used consistently, Danderine dissolves the crust of dandruff, keeps the scalp comfortable and healthy; stops falling hair; helps make your hair grow long, silky and abundant. Your hair is so much easier to arrange and stays in place when Danderine is used. Waves "set" with it look nicer; stay in longer. Five million bottles used a year!

NEWS OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

LATHROP MAID SADLY WRITES OF LOST DOG

Everybody knows how a boy feels when he loves his pup, for the stories are always about a "boy and his dog," but it was a good deal of a surprise to the teacher of little Jeannette Roby when it turned out to be a girl and her dog. Jeannette, who goes to Lathrop Junior high school, and lives at 606 S. Ross street, put her head down on her desk and sobbed. "What in the world is the matter, Jeannette," asked her teacher. She looked up misty eyed. "I lost my dog."

The teacher smiled, the class laughed, and Jeannette braced up defiantly. But when some hard-hearted pupil whispered something to start Monday. The boys are going to make kites while the girls read. When the boys finish the girls will sew while the boys read. We will have to furnish the stick and string. We are going to work in the basement.

FRANKLIN SCHOOL TWINS

Franklin school of West Fourth street, boasts five sets of twins, so scattered through the different grades that various of the teachers frequently with Miss Lottie Sweet, principal, find themselves puzzled frequently by the resemblance between the individual sets. The twins as pictured in the front row, are Dora and Johnnie Grannados, and Claire Lee and Betty Jane MacMillan. In the back row, reading from left to right, are Hazel and Helen De Shazo, Jesse and Bessie Hyder, and Charlotte and Charles Valentine.

Darrell Kline.

In Miss Froeschle's room the sixth grade girls are starting a sewing class. The first stitches are to be the blind and the basting stitches. To start we are making tea towels. We are going to hem them and put a design in one corner.

Lois Straub.

Julia Lathrop

Mrs. Wolff's H 91 English class held an interesting debate on "The Merchant of Venice," opening with "Resolved: that Shylock was a better business man than Antonio." The affirmative side proved its point and won by 28 votes. Its members were Gerald Adair, Jack Pegues and Gordon Belsel, while on the negative side were Helen Logue, Calvin Bandy and John Griset.

The second debate was "Resolved: That Portia married beneath her." The negatives won and were Phyllis Gerrard, Maryanna Baxter and Elmer Manning. Those on the affirmative side were Margerite Bingham, Violet and Patrick Jordan.

The third debate was "Resolved: That Shylock received his just deserts." The affirmative side with Richard Giffand, Harry Blee and Wallace McGee won, with the negative side composed of Royal Wellington, Ruth Miner and Fred Diviny.

Gerald Adair.

As a result of the drive for student body dues which has been sponsored by the Lathrop Executive club, we have the following percentages for the various home rooms:

Swales, 100; Gordon, 100; Young, 99; Henderson, 78; Tummond, 70; Deane, 68; Ward, 54; Adams, 51; Brokaw, 44; Reid, 43; Speed, 40; Baker, 34; L. Thrasher, 34; Blythe, 32; Corson, 31; H. Thrasher, 29; Nicholson, 19; Kline, 18; Wolff, 12.

On Friday, March 7, the Lineup staff held a candy sale for the purpose of raising more funds for the school paper.

Ninth graders are very proud of Donald Boyd who won highest honors in the junior interclass track meet last week. He finished with a total of 18 points while James McWaters, who won second place, finished with 13 points.

The Lathrop Chefs, under Mrs. Sinke's direction, have been studying meats, with special attention given to the various cuts and prices and methods of cooking. Following this discussion, the boys broiled meat cakes which they ate between buns.

Seventh grade cooking classes are studying the preparation of breakfasts. They have taken up and prepared different fruits, cereals and beverages suitable to serve for breakfasts and they are now studying quick breads, how to mix them, difference in the flour used, what makes biscuits, muffins and other quick breads rise, and how to use the gas and electric ovens with and without oven regulators. The girls are looking forward to serving a complete breakfast to their mothers some time soon.

In accordance with the custom of changing the personnel in the hall committee at regular intervals, Miss Blythe's section gave up their badges to the new committee, which is as follows: Herb Duncan, Hugh Davis, Jack Ensign, Alvin Edwards, Clifford Reimner, Harry Nelson, Eugene Spessard, Francis Conrad, Kenneth Clayton, Harry Reed, William Summons, Irma Borland, Dorothy Jessup, Marcella Dickson, Beulah Skaggs, Clare Hommel, Jane Flinn, Margaret Mamieson, Mildred Johnston, Elizabeth Mayer, Fern Schorle, Viola Poole.

Several English classes at Lathrop have been making book reports during the last week. Book covers or oral reports were required in Miss Blythe's classes. Some very clever book covers have been turned in and will be kept for the school exhibit in May. Miss Swale's Low 7's have some interesting book covers on display in her room. In some classes short skits and book agent acts have been given in place of the regular oral report. These methods of reporting on outside reading break the monotony of book reports to some extent and prove of real value to the students.

Miss Corson's classes in "Julius Caesar" and "Merchant of Venice" have been working out some interesting projects along the line of dramatization. Some of the scenes from Julius Caesar have been cleverly worked out by members of the class in modern phraseology.

Members of the Lathrop faculty were fortunate in attending a combination luncheon and faculty meeting on Tuesday, February 25. The luncheon was prepared and served by members of Mrs. Sinke's ninth grade cooking classes. Because of these luncheons, faculty meetings at Lathrop have become affairs to be anticipated with pleasure.

The Executive club, under Miss Nora Reid's direction is sponsoring a drive for student body dues at Lathrop. In each home room, the E. C. representative has drawn a thermometer, which reaches boiling point as the class gets 100 per cent. So far Miss Swale's class and Miss Gordon's classes have reached this point, but there are others that are near the goal.

The new fire committee, which is sponsored by Miss Louise Young, held its first fire drill on Wednesday, with the result that the entire building was emptied in one minute. The committee expects to do better than this in future drills, but feels that this record was not bad as a first attempt. With Lewis Cottrell as fire chief, the committee is as follows: Manuel Agusejo, Ronald Bush, Robert Carter, Holmes Chambliss, Myrl Garner, Malone Holmes, Elzie Imhoff, Robert Kerr, Norman Klein, Harold Lutes, Donald Bush, Frank Pope, Charles Robertson, Roger Zimbleman, Purdie Sharon, Howard Christensen, Donald Boyd, Billy Estes, George Stickler and Elmas Anderson.

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, March 7.—Mrs. Ed. L. Hensley gave several violin numbers at a recent social function in Wintersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Harper entertained at cards Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, friends from Long Beach, being their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Warren James entertained as guests for a day in their home, Mrs. James' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Robinson, of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor spent a day at Irvine park and returning stopped in Santa Ana to visit a friend, Mrs. Towle, who is ill. Mr. and Mrs. George Luff were entertained in Fullerton overnight Tuesday by Mrs. Luff's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Smith. The Luffs had intended going to San Bernardino to visit another sister but found her at the Smith home so a family house party at the Smith home resulted. Mr. and Mrs. Armand Hell entertained as their dinner guests Monday evening, Mr. Hell's brother, M. J. P. Hell, Mrs. Hell and their children, Hazel, Dorothy and Chester Hell, of Westminster, and brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. David Holsclaw and baby son, of Smeltzer.

about "hot dogs," it was too much to be borne.

Incidentally Jeannette writes the poetry for the "Lathrop Line Up," the school paper. It's pretty good verse too, for a 12-year old. So the teacher suggested that she relieve her feelings by writing about her grief. Jeannette did. She hasn't found her dog yet, however, so even poetry is cold consolation.

"Lost"

I have—or had—the cutest dog All white with eyes of brown And kind of soft and fuzzy like With spots all scattered round And when I spanked or scolded her She'd look with hurt surprise As if to say—what did I do? And roll her big brown eyes. But now my Bootsie disappeared. She stayed away all night. I searched and searched for blocks around But she was not in sight. And I'm just feelin' awful now I want her so—oh gee! If any body sees my dog! Please bring her back to me.

THEY'LL WALK NOW

ATHENS, Ga., March 7.—(UP)—Students of the University of Georgia, the coeds in particular, are going in strong for walking. A recent ordinance passed by the city council makes it illegal for any one to solicit an automobile ride within the city limits. Any speech, motion or gesture to an autoist for a ride will be considered a violation and subject to a $25 penalty.

Mrs. McBay asked each one in the high six class to make two books for the songs that she writes on the board that are not in our big books. On the front of our books we have the word "Songs" and a measure of music. These books will be left at Franklin when we go on to Junior high.

The sixth grade has two banners. They are the bank banner and the spelling banner. We are very proud of them because we worked hard for them.

J. C. Gaines.

Miss Froeschle's room has started a club named Knighthood of Youth. It means forming better habits. We start as pages but all of us are going to try to be Knights. The officers are Ray Russell, president; Elinor Straub, vice president; Thelma Sharp, secretary, and Dorothy Ana Hedley, treasurer. We have a road map of the good habits. We hope all members will try to follow the road of good habits to the Castle of Knighthood.

Ray Russell.

The H6 pupils are studying gardens in Miss Flood's room. We are going to have an exhibit of the different flowers and vegetables. We are having gardens at home. We have little catalogues to guide us. We are very interested in the garden study.

This Time « « « Try Coffees From Central America

Twice the richness
... twice the flavor Never "thin" or "flat" or bitter

COFFEE PACK TRAIN STARTING OUT TO THE MOUNTAINS. Burros and primitive carts carry the rare mountain coffees down to villages of Central America for shipment to Folger.

If you're thinking of changing coffee, try a real change. Try the one coffee that is utterly different from any you ever tasted. It comes from certain tiny mountain districts of Central America. Where virgin volcanic soil, steaming tropic rains and brilliant mountain sunshine produce probably the choicest flavored coffees known today. Experts concede that this rare coffee of the West Coast of Central America has a winey tang and full mellow body not duplicated by any other region in the world. "Brown Gold" it is often called—so highly is it prized—so hard to obtain. No one can tell you how good it is. We leave that for your own taste to decide.

Years ago, this coffee was first served in the famous Bohemian restaurants of San Francisco. Travellers tasting it there spread its fame. From all parts of the world they wrote back for shipments. For that was the only way it could be obtained. Today, however, your grocer has it packed by Folger in flavor-tight vacuum tins.

Why Most Coffees Taste Alike

Ordinarily you note little real difference when you change from one brand of coffee to another. And that is really to be expected. For over 70 per cent of all the coffee entering the United States (regardless of brand names) comes from one common region—giving it the same common taste. Nature herself makes Folger's coffee different. For it is grown in another region altogether—in the high volcanic districts shown on the map of Central America below.

You will realize that this is no ordinary coffee with the very first rush of fragrance that comes with the opening of the tin.

The Flavor Test

Because Folger flavor is so distinctly different, we make an unusual offer. Buy a pound of this coffee today. Drink it tomorrow morning. Next morning drink the coffee you have been using. The third morning serve Folger's again. If for any reason you do not choose Folger's, your grocer will gladly refund the full price. We'll pay him. That's fair, isn't it? Why not try it today?

PARIS ARTISTS IN COURT TILT ON MOONBEAMS

By HENRY CUMMINGS
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, March 7.—The wanly reflected beams of the moon are numerous enough and sufficiently varied to insure individual interpretation without swiping the other fellow's idea, according to a famous moonlight artist.

Because he claims that a certain M. Lafon not only sees the same moon in the same way but also paints it with the same technique as he, M. Chanabian is suing for plagiarism. Art experts are experiencing some bewilderment and a decided lack of agreement in ironing out this latest kink in artistic disputes. No unanimity of opinion can be reached as to just what rights belong to the painter of a picture.

M. Hourio and Laurent, members of the Institute, and M. Gelanay, an artist, say that while the right to produce nature is free to everyone, the manner in which a scene is reproduced belongs to the individual who conceives it.

On the other hand, M. Barthelamy, holder of the Prix de Rome; Paul de Plument, President of the Salon of the French School; Juldry, jurymen of the Salon of French Artists; Leon Ruffe, General Commissaire of the Ministry of Public Instruction, and the artist Anglade, say that the only right belonging to the artist is that of direct reproduction.

They say that once an artist has shown his work to the public, even his special technique is no longer his own, and that he is powerless to prevent its being copied.

Artists and students are awaiting the outcome of the lawsuit with lively interest, chiefly because the judges of the court probably will be the most befuddled of any involved in the tangle. With two groups of artists and critics radically opposed in their opinions, much credit will be due the harried judges if they decide whether M. Lafon is guilty of plagiarism for having seen, felt, and executed on canvas the same moonbeams that have served to enhance the fame of M. Chanabian.

If M. Lafon is not found guilty, M. Chanabian will have to return M. Lafon's 50 paintings he recently seized from the galleries in which the brain-children of two fathers, the alleged plagiarist had exhibited.

NEW BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

"Holy Russia" is dead, but the gigantic figure of Peter, called the Great, will not die. Interest has now merely shifted from his work and policies to the man himself. "Peter the Great" by Stephen Graham aims to present a vivid, yet authentic account.

Peter introduced western Europe to Russia. He was a westernizer, a wholesale borrower of weapons from the arsenal of civilization. He worked like a galley slave to build up an army, a fleet, a centralized government. Clad in leather, axe in hand, this Titan, almost seven feet tall, labored in Holland docks to learn the secrets of shipbuilding. He was blacksmith, carpenter, mason, experimenter with explosives, strategist. Throned, with his brother Ivan, amid a sea of blood, he was left at 22 without father, mother or advisor. He was surrounded by a pack of foreigners and dandies. But he had his tremendous will, his feeling of destiny—and he made Russia.

Behind the progressive westernizer, however, lay the fantastic cruelty of the Tartar. He who brought civilization to Muscovy was himself the supreme barbarian. He was more cruel than Ivan the Terrible. He throned in an atmosphere of fear, sadism and burlesque mirth. His court was filled with dwarfs and monstrosities and fools, his orgies and destructive races and tortures are a hundred crimson streaks on the pages of his life. He tortured his own son to death, and one of his last acts was to present to Catherine, his wife, the nicely preserved head of her lover.

Yet this Gargantua among monarchs, childlike and terrible, sadist and buffoon, drunkard and sensualist, wielder of the knout and rack, was among the greatest, if not the greatest, of kings in modern history. In him was foreshadowed a large part of Russian destiny. With his ruthless hands he turned the dreamy face of Russia to the West. Francesco Fausto Nitti and two companions are the first men to succeed in escaping from the mysterious Fascist prison island of Lipari in the Mediterranean, where hundreds of adversaries of Mussolini and Fascism languish in exile. Nitti tells of this "Escape" in which for the first time is brought to a world barely aware of its existence, so ruthlessly has been suppressed, the complete story of the brutal tyranny exercised by the Fascist government over its political opponents.

This is Nitti's own narrative of his adventures from the day of his arrest in Rome on Dec. 2, 1928, to the night of his escape on July 25, 1929. He describes the grapevine spy system which the Fascist police have thrown out as a giant network over Italy and its neighbors. His account of how political suspects are treated from the time they are first shadowed to their capture and deportation, the harrowing description of life on the penal islands where men go mad, is from firsthand experience. The story of how Nitti and his friends duped the vigilance of their guards, and under the cover of a black Italian night, swam stealthily among a fleet of police boats to a high-powered launch which rushed them to victory on a foreign soil, is the account of fact which rivals the most exciting fiction.

Francesco Nitti is a nephew of former Prime Minister Nitti, the noted Italian Liberal statesman who refused to adopt the Fascist creed. Roselli and Lussu, his comrades in flight are likewise men of distinction and culture. They are at present, like so many of their countrymen, refugees in France.

"What Happened in Palestine" by Maurice Samuel is the first connected description of an eyewitness of the events in the Holy Land which recently startled the whole world. This book is of more than a vivid description of events. It is a detailed and fascinating study of men and groups, of the conditions which preceded the uprising of the social, religious and cultural forces in the country, and of the real significance of the uprising.

The world has been asking: "What was the meaning of the uprising? Was it engineered or spontaneous? Is there any evidence of planning? How much did the British administration know? What has been its attitude? Who was to blame? What is the view of the Jews and the Arabs? These questions are dealt with exhaustively and authoritatively in this book. Mr. Samuel reproduces the Hebrew and Arab press; the statements of the leaders; the manifestos of parties; the documents of the British administration, and analyzes them in the light of recent events.

Mr. Samuel has long been recognized as an authority on the Palestine question. He has recently made Palestine his home and views the events intimately as one who has a direct stake in the country. Although this book is filled with carefully checked facts, it is a human and moving book. It is not a dry catalogue of incidents, but a dramatic analysis of the hopes, ambitions, intrigues, sacrifices and blunders of various groups in Palestine.

It is impossible for anyone interested in international affairs, and in the Near East in particular, to form a final opinion on the meaning of the recent uprising in Palestine without perusing this book. In addition to furnishing the facts of the situation, this book lays down the principles on which the peaceful progress of Palestine must be based.

Last of the Seminole Lighthorsemen

By CLAUDE L. DOUGLAS

ON a morning in the summer of 1896 a young Indian spurred a lithe, flea-bitten mare over the rolling hills of the Indian Territory toward Wewoka, capital and principal trading post of the Seminole Nation.

He set a dangerous pace over the rocky terrain, and although he could feel the little animal's heart pounding against the lean ribs under the saddle leather, he dug boot heels into the mare's thin flanks.

In the capital of the Seminoles the rider had an appointment to keep; he had given his word to arrive at a set hour, and he must not fail the rendezvous. It was a matter of grave importance—a matter of life and death—and the young man had tarried over-long at home.

He glanced at the sun, already high in the heavens. He must ride hard . . . faster . . . faster . . .

His cowhide whip rose and fell on foam-flecked withers, and the mare strained forward like a frightened jack rabbit.

IN the capital of the Seminoles, which boasted at that time only a trading post and the council house where the tribal elders met to make the law, stood a scraggly oak tree which grew apart from its neighbors like one shunned as an evil thing. And in a cleared space before it a small band of Indians had gathered, some of them carrying Winchester rifles—while against the trunk of the oak itself stood a younger man, erect and rigid as a statue in bronze.

Around his face was swathed a white bandage . . . and over his left breast was pinned a white paper heart.

An ominous silence hung over the assemblage, to be broken presently by a flurry of words in the Seminole tongue. Five of the waiting tribesmen stepped forward, their rifles at the ready. Silence again . . . a stillness broken only by the rustle of the wind in the trees and the shrill scolding of a blue-jay. The chief raised his arm . . . for a moment it poised aloft, then fell. Five spurts of flame leaped out—five shots reverberated as one.

The young man with the bandaged face sank down beneath the oak, and slowly a bright red stain spread across the whiteness of the paper heart.

Twenty yards away a sweat-caked little mare raised her head and whinnied. Then, still unsaddled, she strolled away to the shade of a nearby grove, for the day was hot . . . the sun sloping into the west . . .

The little mare whinnied again, and looked back. Perhaps she guessed that her master had been in time for his rendezvous—an appointment with Death!

GREASY derricks now dot the Seminole hills; concrete highways follow the trails the Seminoles rode to the tribal pow-wow; and the law of the white man has come to rule over the land once known as the Indian Territory, but down at Wewoka, Oklahoma, may still be found reminders of the day when the red man enforced the law with bullet and whip in that portion of the Territory which comprised the Seminole Nation.

The old whipping tree; it still stands. And, although the execution oak has been cut down and placed in the state historical museum at Oklahoma City, a few of those who dispensed justice beneath its boughs are still alive. The Lighthorsemen of the Seminoles! The "Royal Mounted Police" of the Territory!

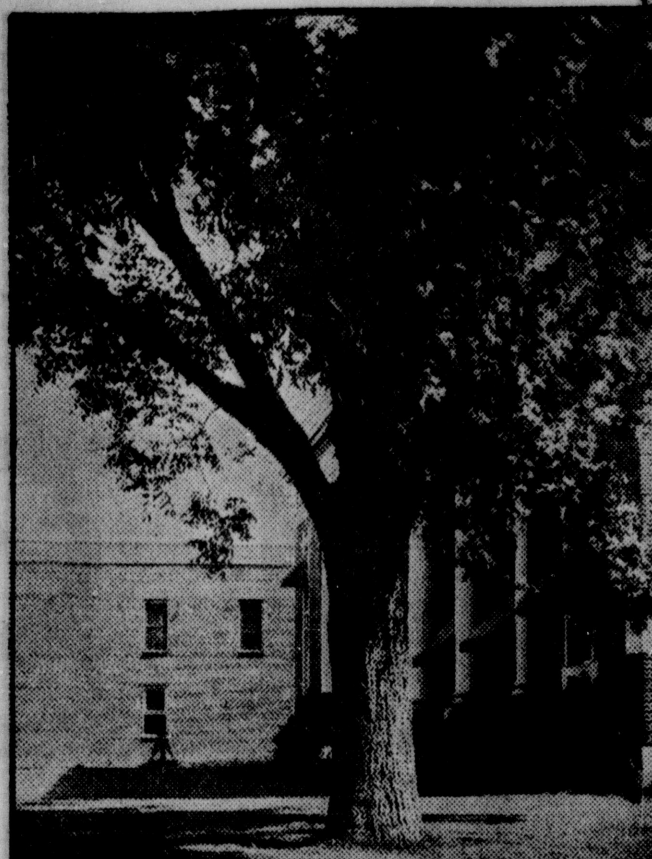

They dispensed a grim, but highly efficient brand of aboriginal justice, a system of law and order . . . and honor . . . that finds no parallel.

The men who pulled the Winchester triggers that morning in '96 were members of the Lighthorsemen, that band of picked Indians who kept the peace of the frontier in a manner which puts to shame the loop-holed legal structure which makes up the law of this more "civilized" day.

In 1896 the land between Kansas and Texas was considered quite beyond the pale. The Seminoles had no jails,

The survivors of a now disbanded Indian police force as famous in its day as the Texas Rangers or the Mounties of Canada here tell the unknown story of their system of cruel tortures and executions which maintained law and order where every other system failed

"The hickory fell . . . and a livid streak painted itself across the unfortunate man's back. . . . The body twitched slightly, but no sound came from it. . . . Fifty lashes, a hundred!"

Under this pecan tree in Wewoka, Okla., thieves and other law-breakers were whipped. . . . The lower branches, to which convicted men were strung, have been cut away in recent years.

Lawmakers and law enforcers. . . . This photo, taken in 1904, shows the 11 men (foreground) who were the "Royal Northwest Mounted Police" of the Seminole nation. . . . They preserved order with a ruthless but effective finality.

the Nation had no statute books, and the Territory had few lawyers. The tribal laws were brief and well known to all. "We didn't need jails," says Chili Fish, present principal chief and former Lighthorse captain, "because we had so few prisoners."

The answer may be found in the unwritten traditions of the tribe.

The young man who rode so doggedly to his rendezvous with death that day in '96 was a convicted murderer, doomed to die by the tribal council because he had broken a law old as the tablets of Moses. He rode that morning, not from death, but to it. He knew the old oak back of the trading post. . . . But he had been caught by the Lighthorsemen, tried, convicted . . . and there was no higher court of appeal. The council had spoken.

Yet there had been one chance of escape, only one. He had not chosen to take it. A fortnight before, after his trial, a captain of Lighthorsemen had said to him:

"You have been sentenced to die, but now you may go free. You are to go home and put your affairs in order . . . but two weeks from today you must return here . . . to die. Do you promise?"

"I will be here," agreed the condemned. He rode away. And on the appointed day he returned. He had lingered over-long at home, but by hard riding he reached the post oak at the hour set.

Why hadn't he run away during those two weeks of grace when escape would have been easy? He couldn't . . . because he had given his word. He couldn't . . . because other men before him had been given the same opportunity and they had all returned. The young man could break the law, but not his word . . . and the tribal tradition. "Condemned men always come back," says Chili Fish. "In all the history of the Lighthorsemen there was never a failure. Their word was the only bond . . . people didn't make bail then, like today."

LITTLE is known of the origin of the Lighthorsemen, but those of the Oklahoma clan of the Seminoles say that that method of law enforcement was the custom of their ancestors for countless moons before the United States government, in the years between 1830 and 1842, kicked the protesting tribesmen out of the Florida Everglades and sent them over the bitter "trail of tears" to the Indian Territory.

So the Seminoles brought with them when they migrated west the idea of the Lighthorsemen, and it was not long after the transplanted tribe settled itself in the Territory that he organization was reborn.

The Lighthorsemen were the pick of the tribe, selected by the council for fearlessness and honesty. Their job was to track down the criminal and bring him to the building in Wewoka where the council met, listened to the case before a prosecutor and a representative for the defense, and then passed judgment.

If found guilty the defendant either was shot beneath the oak or was tied to the whipping tree and given a designated number of lashes with a stout hickory switch wielded by a Lighthorseman . . . for the Seminoles knew but two degrees of punishment, death by the bullet and the scourging near-death of the hickory. The degree of punishment depended upon the crime.

"Five shots reverberated as one . . . the young man with the bandaged face sank down beside the oak." . . . This startling photo, probably the only one in existence, shows an actual Seminole execution . . . the last under the tribal laws.

IT was the murderers who were led to the post oak back of the trading post . . . the pecan whipping tree was the particular Hell set aside for those who "borrowed" a neighbor's hog or cut the throat of a brother's beef.

If the majestic pecan tree which stands today on the lawn of the Seminole county courthouse at Wewoka had the power of speech it could tell tales that would make one think twice before setting out to purloin a neighbor's calf.

It would not be a pleasant story, for it is not a pleasant sight to see a strong man stripped to the waist and suspended taut from a tree limb to have his back slashed to ribbons with a stinging, wet-raising lash. Fifty blows for the first offense, 100 for the second, and 150 for the third—this was the manner in which the Seminoles dealt with thieves. And 50 might have been quite enough, for the arm of the law was strong indeed, and whipped men scarcely ever remembered after the count of 50, nor cared.

On the whipping tree in those days there grew a lower branch which was close enough to the ground to permit a man of average height to stand upon the flat of his feet and touch the bark above with the palms of his hands. The wrists were lashed over the limb and the toe-tips touched earth, but the Lighthorsemen tied the victim's feet and then placed a heavy rail between them—with a man sitting on either end.

Now all was in readiness for the administering of justice. A Lighthorseman delegated by the captain stepped forward and selected a switch. He gripped the thumb-thick hickory, tested its "whip," squared his stance.

Swish! The hickory fell, and a livid streak painted itself across the unfortunate man's back. The body strung to the tree twitched slightly but no sound came from it. Swish . . . whack! Swish . . . whack! Fifty lashes . . . a hundred. The crimson streaks were gone now, hidden under the blood that covered them. And still no murmur from the victim. His eyes were closed and his body had lost something of its tenseness. What matter 50 more lashes . . . now? The whip fell again and again, on raw flesh!

At length they cut him down, a bloody and almost lifeless form, and Dr. Charles Lynn, official physician, came forward to apply the much-needed arnica and bandages. They didn't die, but they did go down into deep valleys of death and, thanks to Dr. Lynn, climb slowly out again.

WAS the Seminole law a just law? Chief Chili Fish thinks it was, because if a man thieved thrice and then sinned again he was given another chance to mend his ways.

"We started all over again," says Chili Fish, explaining that 50 lashes were applied for the fourth offense . . . the mercy of the Seminoles!

There were no whippings after 1900, when the law of the white man came to the Nation in the person of Judge H. M. Tate, U. S. commissioner.

The whipping tree still stands, but its lower limb has been cut away . . . gone, like the law it helped to uphold.

Gone, too, are most of the Lighthorsemen . . . Captain Lonnie . . . Dennis Cyrus . . . and kindred spirits. Only a few remain . . . Chili Fish . . . and Unisi, he who followed the "trail of tears" from Florida, but the years have taken away his sight.

They are a reticent people, these Seminoles, and they have kept no written records. Names have been forgotten, and dates, but one may still hear tales. . . .

"Only one man among those sentenced to die ever hesitated to come back to Wewoka at the end of his two weeks, and he was a young man, scarcely more than a boy. He had gone home to spend his last days, but two weeks pass rapidly when one is young, and on the day before the execution his boldness vanished. That night he talked long with his father and what passed between them was never told.

But at noon of the next day a creaky wagon drawn by a pair of many nags stopped before the door of the council house. An old man climbed down.

"I have brought my son," he told the Lighthorse captain. Later, near sunset, the old wagon rattled back over the homeward road. The old man drove slowly and behind him, in the wagon bed, rode the son he loved so well—silent under the covering of his blanket. . . .

Search where you will among the Seminoles and you will find no Lighthorseman who ever swung the whip or pulled the trigger. They smile and shake their heads. Yes . . . they have watched others do it, but not themselves.

But they will tell you that their justice was infinitely more just, more efficient, and more to be respected than the law of today.

PARENT-TEACHERS

McKinley

McKinley P-T. A. met February 27 at 2:30 p. m. in the kindergarten room, the president, Mrs. E. E. Piper, in the chair.

Low second class, with Mrs. Ethelyn Peterson, the teacher, gave a study of rabbits. Rosemary Pierce told the story of the "Hare and the Hedgehog" and Charlotte See told the story of "Cottontail". Mrs. Lacy announced a school circus with all the slide shows, candy, cooked food booths, etc., for the evening of March 14.

Roll call of mothers gave the bird and cage to the high second class for next month.

Mrs. J. V. Kelsey of Garden Grove, vice president of the state federation, very interestingly told of the founding of the P-T. A. by Mrs. Hearst and Mrs. McBurney, and gave a short history of the work done by the association in the 33 years since it was started.

and of its platform and objectives. Mrs. Clarence Brown, were Mrs. S. L. Holmes, Mrs. Relan Clark, Mrs. G. A. Tart, Mrs. L. C. Linebaugh.

Roosevelt School

Low sixth grade is making a garden on the school grounds. Boys of 16 class are getting the ground in shape. The boys are planting vegetables, the girls, flowers.

All classes plan to have a garden of their own at home. Later there is to be a garden contest, a prize being given for the best garden.

Cuca Chavez.

The juniors from Roosevelt school had a game with juniors from Lowell school March 4. The players of Roosevelt are as follows: Catcher, Marian Duncan; pitcher, Patty Clark; first base, Margery Malers; first short, Gloria Kirchner; second base, Anne Wetherell; second short, Louise Moreno; third base, Margaret Pimental; left field, Betty Bradley; center field, Frances McWaters; right field, Celia Ramirez. The game was very exciting. The score was 16 to 4 in Roosevelt school's favor.

Louise Moreno.

Miss Wierick has a large group of blocks which are very easy to build and the little children construct according to the book Miss Wierick has shown them.

The book which they have been dramatizing this week is the "Train". They built a very interesting train. They included the caboose, travelers' compartments, and also the compartment in which the men shovel coal. They choose new pupils each day to take different parts. This week they chose the engineer and conductor. They have already taken a trip to San Diego.

Anne Wetherell.

In Miss Gerrard's room the low third is making covers for poem books.

Evelyn Stutta.

In Miss Knudson's room we are studying about planting gardens. We are going to plan at school what we are to have in our gardens. The class has been telling stories about gardens and animals. I have started to dig a garden myself.

Marguerite Pimental.

We started running, jumping, and chinning. In running I made the dash in 8.3 seconds. In jumping I made 5 feet, 1 inch, and I chinned two times. In basketball throwing I threw two out of ten.

Clyde.

In Miss Knudson's room the high six pupils are having language cards. They are cards you have to fill in, putting in the correct words. The farthest anyone can go is to 45. I think they are a lot of fun and they help you a lot in language.

Margery Malers.

TURKEYS IN ALABAMA

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 7.—(UP)—The protection of the wild turkey hen during all seasons for the past 10 years has brought Alabama to the top in the production of wild turkeys. Along with Texas, Alabama has far surpassed the neighboring states in wild turkey according to a survey made by the Wild Turkey Conservation League.

past. This would have been a sensitive year for Miller Huggins, the most successful manager of the decade.

It, therefore, is bound to be downright critical for the man who succeeded him. He will be working against the natural inertia of a ball club that apparently has run its race and the equally natural tendency to draw odious comparisons between himself and the gaunt little man who made such a gallant record as his predecessor.

The Yankees might have done things a little more gracefully if they had signed Shawkey to a contract longer than one year. Of course, they wished to feel their way with a new and untried man but the tact effect was not flat, it seemed as though they were telling him to finish no worse than third in 1930 or else make up his mind to do his finishing thereafter for somebody else.

CLARK AND GOEDERS
WIN MAIN EVENTS

main event with a stab to the whiskers midway through the first round. Moss didn't like the feel of that one and succumbed with too much dignity when Goeders whipped over a light right cross to the chin a few seconds later.

Macias and Walcott were a cinch for the Foust Cops of Honor, given each week for the best fight among the preliminaries. It would just about have won a prize for the best match of the year.

Employing a long sweeping left, Walcott won the first chapter. The second was a spirited heat, Macias getting it when he floored the Negro just as the bell rang. Walcott was weak when he came up for the third and fell an easy prey for Macias' haymakers although he demonstrated plenty of courage before his evening's demise.

Hard-hitting "Tex" Stinnett kayoed George Rielmann in the first. Stinnett hits too vigorously for most of the palookas.

Fred Coffman, making his first professional start, stopped Sid Florucci in the third round. Sid had all he wanted and quit but that wasn't Coffman's fault. The local man can sock and may get somewhere if he is handled judiciously.

Baby Sal Sorio and Young Peter Jackson collide next Thursday and if that one doesn't fill Foust's house there simply isn't any hope for boxing here.

Bitto, Owens Box
In Legion Feature

HOLLYWOOD, March 7.—Ernie Owens and Joe Bitto are scheduled for the 10-round main event at American Legion stadium here tonight. Owens is a favorite to defeat his heavyweight opponent, largely because of a sensational victory over Dynamite Jackson here recently.

BERLIN, March 6.—American counterfeiters are operating in foreign lands, according to German police. They report the discovery of the European headquarters of an American gang which is making fake $100 U. S. bills. They make these bills and pass them on to foreign banks. They are so clever in their duplication that thousands of dollars have changed hands without detection.

The Black Circle

A Thrilling Detective Story by Mansfield Scott

Copyright, 1928, by Edward J. Clode, Inc.

53RD INSTALLMENT

"He could not contrive so coldly, so cleverly, nor so naturally about his effort to reach Walker in person as he alone had the power to do, if he should suspect that others were close at hand, watching to retake him into custody or to forestall his final effort at punishment. He, too, must think it a genuine escape from prison.

"I went back to the prison and told Warden Larkin of the Governor's consent to my plan. We began to contrive a means for the apparent escape of Thornton which would be both safe and deceptive. When we had finished our plans, we believed that we had schemed well. There were only two, aside from the two of the secret service, from the two on earth who knew of it—Mr. Larkin, and one guard, whose name was Wayne.

"We felt that our plan would take care of every particular. Thornton's entire route of escape was mapped out for him, and explained to him by means of secret notes which I myself wrote and which Wayne dropped at intervals in his cell. Wayne also secretly tampered with the sliding bar above the door of the cell.

"I sent the prisoner a file and a piece of metal, together with the instructions. With the utmost of care, Wayne and Mr. Larkin managed to watch, to learn whether Thornton was making the key. When they found that he was we knew that he would take the opportunity to escape.

"His exit and flight, according to our plans, were simple. I had suggested, in my third note, the proper time. The other guards, by Mr. Larkin's contrivance, were all in different parts of the building. Thornton had only to unlock his door, and to follow instructions. A high stool had been placed near the ventilator. In the shaft, a rope hung down from the top. The jump from roof to roof was easy for an athlete. From the roof of the machine shop, a large pipe led straight to the ground.

"As for mounting the wall, a long poker was provided; and Thornton at one time held the Eastern intercollegiate record at pole vaulting. And outside the wall, six of my own men were waiting, ready to convey Thornton swiftly to Springfield, from which point he would be allowed to make his own way to New York, although we would carefully follow all the way.

"You see, inspector, it was no part of my plan to have Thornton become a full-fledged, actual fugitive from justice, in constant danger himself as well as a possible menace to others. My plan provided that he should in actuality be under our keeping all the while, although he believed himself to be a fugitive safely started upon his journey.

"In order to make sure of creating that impression in his mind, it was necessary for my operatives who were waiting outside the wall to invent quite a fanciful situation, and to carry out a rather delicate piece of play acting during the early minutes of the flight. And Mr. Larkin, of course, must soon spread the alarm in actuality, else Thornton might be led to wonder later why pursuit had been delayed.

"There was no danger, however, that my men would be interrupted or questioned by the police officer on duty in the neighborhood of the prison; for the man in charge of the party, Inspector Harper, had previously spoken with him.

"So much, then, for our plans, which from the start, went sadly askew. In the first place, Wayne miscalculated very disastrously during one of his early rounds after midnight. He failed to give Thornton time to climb into the ventilator. Finding the slide in the shaft open, he thought Thornton had already gone; but Thornton was leaping upon him. They fought; Wayne slipped, and fell down the stairs, severely injured his head. In this way mishap number one occurred.

"Then, out on the road between Worcester and Springfield, Thornton became terrified at the approach of a car which was coming at a terrific rate of speed from behind—some party of joy riders, probably—and he threatened to leap from our machine. Inspector Harper, in charge of our party of actor guards, tried vainly to restrain him, and as a last resort ordered the driver to outrun the other car.

"With our machine, which was of very high power, the driver succeeded; but a fearful wreck followed, from which Thornton alone escaped without serious injury. Wells and Barton, two of our men, were instantly killed; Franklin, a young operative, received badly crushed limbs; and Inspector Harper was seriously stunned and shaken. Thornton, receiving only minor injuries, made his escape before the disaster was discovered by passing motorists. Thus we lost track of him completely.

"For nearly a week we tried in vain to pick up his trail. The whole success of our project depended upon our finding him before he should complete his arrangements with this organization. We kept the most strict watch over his friend, Mr. Walter Stone, and appealed to Mr. Stone personally, without success. How we finally succeeded in recovering his trail with the able assistance of this lady, Miss Dorothy Staples, and with the kind consent of her father, may be explained to you at another time.

"As soon as we had placed Thornton again under surveillance, we were enabled to keep watch of his mail, both outward and inward. In that way we learned of the turn which affairs had taken between Thornton and the organization; and, realizing that the most careful precautions would be taken by the criminals to prevent any of Thornton's friends from following him to their headquarters, we decided that we must go through with the alternate plan which I had conceived during the early stages of the undertaking.

"Briefly; at the proper time we must quietly make Thornton a prisoner in our keeping; while I, who am similar in build, must procure clothes and other articles corresponding to Thornton's and go to the headquarters of the criminals instead of Thornton.

"Thornton's last letter to the organization was opened at the post office by one of the secret service men, and was brought to me. As it happened, Thornton had already added a short postscript. One of the foremost handwriting and forgery experts in the country, formerly a criminal but now in our service, added a few lines more to that postscript, to the effect that Thornton's present disguise was so clever and so complete that recognition by any photograph would be virtually impossible.

"You see, I could devise but very little protection in this venture; but everything within our power was done. We had known for a long while that Allen Walker, the only man in the organization who had really known Thornton, always looked after the business in San Francisco. Our men had often hunted for Walker there. What, then, was logical?

"I wired for secret service men in San Francisco to arrest two smugglers whom they had been shadowing for weeks, and to create as much alarm as possible among those engaged in the drug traffic—in the hope of calling Walker to the West. There lay the gamble, you see! If Walker had been present here upon my arrival, he would have known at once that I was not Richard Thornton.

"The capture of Thornton was affected—or, rather, it was intended to be effected—at the Hotel Brewster. Our men made the serious error of springing upon Thornton singly, rather than in unison; and, as they were instructed to take him without inflicting serious injury upon him, the results were painful and shocking to many of our operatives.

TELLS HOW TO BE SUCCESS AS STORY WRITER

CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, Calif., March 7.—(INS)—Sinclair Lewis, the Sauk Center, Minn., boy who went from city to city before making good as a novelist with such books as "Main Street," "Babbalanza," "Arrowsmith," "Elmer Gantry" and others, has ideas—definite ideas—on how to attain success as a writer.

Here are a few words of advice Lewis dropped while dropping puts on the Pebble Beach golf course here:

"Write like hades. Get an old typewriter for $10, steal pencils, if necessary, and rifle grocery store ash cans for wrapping paper to write on.

"Writing requires the cheapest capital of any business in the world. Send your stuff to editors. If it's any good they will snap it up and bound you for more. That's how tough editors are."

In regard to the value of newspaper reporting, Lewis had this to say as he scrambled out of a sand trap:

"I think H. L. Mencken is right when he says four years of reporting are enough for any man who wants to write. It's not helpful after that. With foreign correspondents, it's different."

Recalling his early days as a struggling writer in Carmel-by-the-sea, Lewis said that for six months he was unable to sell anything and finally found himself with but $10.

"And that was no joke. I was living here with William Rose Benet. Bill and I did our own washing and, sometimes, our own cooking. The latter was terrible. After leaving here, Lewis said he obtained jobs reporting in San Francisco.

"I was sorry and got fired," Lewis admitted. "I could handle assignments I liked, but wasn't worth two cents on general reporting."

Lewis plans to begin work soon on a new novel.

IRVINE

IRVINE, March 7.—Election of trustees for the San Joaquin school district will be held at the old school house March 28. The polls will be open from 1 to 6 and all registered voters are urged to cast their votes. A trustee is to be elected to fill the place of Hurley Sears, whose term expires this term.

Mrs. Bert Bentz is visiting friends and relatives in Porterville for several weeks.

Mrs. Gilbert Kramer, of Placentia, was hostess at a party Tuesday afternoon, honoring her little daughter, Joan, who was celebrating her fourth birthday anniversary.

The local people who enjoyed the party were Mrs. Kramer's sister-in-law, Mrs. Horace Munger, and daughter, Dona Jean, her sisters, Mrs. Bud Mitchell and daughter, Emily, and Mrs. Bennie Osterman and daughter, Maxine, of El Toro.

The orchard leases belonging to Charles Cogan, Mortimer Plumb and George Harems have been set out to valencias.

Harry Harkelroad, of Tustin; Bill Whitehead and Oswald Staples spent Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boosey.

TRIP OF GOLD STAR MOTHERS IS EXPLAINED

Orange county Gold Star mothers who are eligible to make the pilgrimage to World war cemeteries in Europe, planned by the government, should make application at once for reservations, according to an announcement today by Harry Edwards, service officer here for the American Legion and D. A. V. Mothers and widows of soldiers, sailors or marines who died in service between April 5, 1917, and July 1, 1921 and were buried in Europe, are eligible.

All expenses for the trip, including tips for porters, are to be met by the government for the mothers and widows who are selected to make the pilgrimage, it was stated by Edwards, who also said that the first group was scheduled to leave for Europe next May. The party is to be selected by the war department from applications filed by mothers and widows eligible under the provisions of the act of congress authorizing the pilgrimage and only those who are selected and invited by the war department will have their expenses paid by the government.

California is 13th on the list of states in the order in which applications will be acted on by the war department. Edwards was advised, and this means that if the other 12 states ahead of California fill the list that can be handled this year, appointments from this state will have to go over until next year.

Edwards announced today that he would assist mothers and widows who desired to make applications. Applications should be addressed to the Quarter Master General in Washington, D. C., giving the name and organization of the son or husband, including if possible the identification number.

County Clerk J. M. Backs also has received information relative to the trip, and supplies and instructions from the department of state at Washington, for issuing passports for those who have been or will be guests of the government. Instructions he received ask co-operation in assisting in every possible way the women who are to make the pilgrimage.

No fees are to be collected for the passports for government guests on the trip. The department of state will issue special pilgrimage passports limited to the duration of the trip. Alien mothers and widows, as well as those who owe their allegiance to the United States, will be provided with travel documents if they are selected to make the journey.

Only those who have been invited by the war department should apply for passports or travel documents. It was pointed out, and they should come with proof of their citizenship and be accompanied by witnesses who have known the applicant for two years or longer. Four photographs also should be supplied. Special forms are supplied for the alien mothers or widows.

Information sent to Backs stated that it was anticipated the average

ANNOUNCE DETAILS OF FIRST COURSE IN TRAINING PROGRAM FOR LEADERS IN SCOUT WORK

D. K. Hammond, chairman of the leadership and training committee of the Orange, Olive, Santa Ana and Tustin Boy Scouts, today announced the completion of plans for the first course of the five-year training program for scout leaders.

The course, to extend over 12 consecutive Monday nights, will start March 17. It will be held in the club rooms of the First Methodist church, Santa Ana, the session starting at 7 p. m. and lasting for two hours.

Hammond stated that the training course would be of benefit not only to scout leaders but to others who may be interested in boy programs and boy leadership. According to George Walker, scout executive, many registrations have been received at scout headquarters, 811 North Sycamore street, from scoutmasters, assistants, troop committeemen and council officials. Hammond will be assisted in the training work program by H. G. Nelson, county commissioner; and by Henry Umack and Christy Allen, field executives.

The features of the program will be talks by men prominent in the work, the schedule being as follows:

- March 17, "The Scouting Objectives and Program," E. B. De Groot, Los Angeles executive;
- March 24, "The Patrol Unit in Scouting," C. L. Appling, Long Beach executive;
- March 31, "Signalling," Gilbert W. Merritt; "Running the Troop," Tex Lucas, Old Baldy council executive;
- April 7, "First Aid," Dr. H. W. Leeling; "The Troop Committee," Henry Umack;
- April 14, "Hikes and Their Uses," John Winn; "Putting the Out in Scouting," Richard Killen;
- April 21, an outdoor session under the leadership of C. T. Allen;
- April 28, "Methods and Devices age of the group making the pilgrimage would be 65 years, and asked every consideration for these women who are selected to be the guests of the government.

GREECE ADOPTS PRINCIPALS OF AMERICAN LIFE

Pointing out that there are many Greeks in high departments of education in the United States, asserting that Greeks who have become citizens of this country are patriotic and loyal, and commenting on the industry of natives as represented by the scores who operate bootblack stands, fruit stands and restaurants here, Dr. George L. Marsh, of Claremont, until recently a professor in a college at Athens, declared in an address at the Lions club, yesterday at St. Ann's inn, that Greece is rapidly absorbing American principles of government.

Recounting that Greece became a republic six years ago, the speaker declared that the republic is now pretty well established with the administration successfully holding down militarism.

American colleges, he said, are wielding a tremendous influence in the near east, and establishment of the institutions of learning for natives of the Balkan states is responsible for progress along modern lines being made in those countries.

Dr. Marsh commented on ancient Greece, spoke of the pioneering of that nation in commerce, art and architecture, and related how Athens in Greece, and principal cities of the Balkan states, were becoming modernized.

The Rev. Perry F. Schrock officiated as program chairman.

Missionary From South India To Lecture In S. A.

Members of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church are anticipating an unusual event tonight in their church at Bishop and Cypress streets, where Mrs. Paynter, a native missionary of South India, will address them.

Mrs. Paynter will tell of her personal experiences as a Mohammedan and of her conversion to the Christian religion. She is making a lecture tour of the United States, appearing in various churches, as her missionary work is now inter-denominational. She plans upon an early return to her chosen mission field in southern India. The lecture at 7:30 p. m. will be open to the general public.

CALIFORNIA NOW LEADING IN AIR

In number of licensed and identified airplanes, licensed pilots and mechanics, California leads the nation. This fact was evident today in the air commerce bulletin issued by the United States department of commerce.

The state of New York is California's closest rival and in actual number of licensed planes exceeds California. In the total number of licensed and identified ships, however, California leads. California has 832 licensed aircraft and the bulletin lists 390 as identified. New York has 977 licensed and 212 identified planes.

California has 2076 licensed pilots and 1461 licensed airplane mechanics, according to the report, in which the figures are based on a count made on Dec. 31, 1929. New York has 1007 licensed pilots and 733 mechanics, the report shows. The pilots of this state include 18 in the industrial class, 179 limited commercial and 976 private.

Hold Funeral Of Accident Victim

MIDWAY CITY, March 7.—Funeral services for Alton Flagg, 74, retired business man of Midway City, were held Wednesday from the Dixon funeral chapel in Huntington Beach. Mr. Flagg met his death Sunday evening, when struck by a machine as he was on his way to church in Midway City.

The services were conducted by a former pastor of Mr. Flagg when he was a deacon in a Baptist church in Grand Rapids, Mich., the former home of the family, and the Rev. J. J. Woodson, pastor of the Midway City Nazarene church, of which Mr. Flagg and wife were regular attendants, also spoke at the service.

Mr. Flagg is survived by his wife, who resides at the family home on Huntington Beach boulevard, and two sons, both of whom are in the east.

HOUNDED BY TROUBLES

They must be dog-tired, to make long faces like these. And no wonder, for Lee and Ardent of Reynalton—the mournful countenances canines pictured above—are kept busy going over Europe winning prizes at dog shows. FEBRUARY REPORT REVEALS WIDE VARIETY OF ACTIVITY IN Y. M. C. A. ORGANIZATION February was a busy month at the Y. M. C. A., it was revealed today by Ralph Smedley, executive secretary, in a report recounting the activities of the short month.

A note is made of the fact that $500 was applied on the indebtedness of the organization.

The secretary revealed that in addition to regular use by members, on schedule, 10 different organized groups of boys made use of the building on 50 occasions, with a total attendance of 757 in swimming pool and gymnasium, and 471 in the lobby. The groups represented were Boy Scouts, Mexican Center, Friendly Indians, Lathrop Junior high school, H. Y. Lathrop-Willard basketball, H. Y. M. E. church boys, Pioneer clubs, Ragers, Reformed Presbyterian church boys and county school orchestra.

In addition, 11 out-of-town boys groups used the pool, and 41 boy visitors from out of town made individual use of the privileges of the Y.

In the health education department, 35 classes for men were attended by 1020. Forty classes for boys were attended by 1824. Eight basketball teams, representing as many churches, with 80 men on the teams, played 16 vigorous games on Friday evenings, in the church league. Other teams played nine regular games. The volleyball team played 15 games in regular competition, winning all but one. Thirty men used the handball court more or less regularly. Six young men are in a special fencing class under Claire Hanson. The gymnasium floor hardly ever cools off in the afternoon and evening.

In the general service offered by the organization, 13 organizations held 26 meetings in the building during the month. Emergency aid, meals or lodging, was given to 12 men. Dormitory occupancy average was 54 for the month. The receipts for room rentals totaled $398.74, the largest receipts for any one month since the building opened nearly six years ago.

ROBOT POSTMAN

BERLIN, March 7.—A Berlin post office has been equipped with automatic letter boxes. When the number of letters posted in these boxes reach a certain weight, they automatically drop out of the box on to a traveling hand conveyor. On this belt they are taken to the sorting room and finally reach the mail trains.

SELECT FIRST HIGHWAY BODY 20 YEARS AGO

Tomorrow will mark the twentieth anniversary of the day when Orange county launched its good roads program by the appointment of its original highway commission by the board of supervisors. The part played by paved highways inter-lacing this section cannot be estimated but they have played an important part in bringing about an increase in the value of taxable property from $17,570,874 in 1909 and 1909 to $173,992,035 in 1929, according to Nat Neff, superintendent of highways.

The commission appointed by the board of supervisors reported recommendations and in July, 1913, construction started on a good roads program under a bond issue of $1,270,000, voted by the people. This bond issue built 131 miles of good roads.

Today Orange county has the most highly developed road system of any county of its size in the state. According to Neff this road network has been responsible to a great extent for the fact that Orange county has been able to develop one of the best school systems in the state. Schools are easily accessible. It also has been responsible to a large extent for the remarkable increase in motor vehicle registration. It has facilitated transportation and in countless ways has aided commercial expansion as well as agricultural growth in this area.

BARBERS BACKING SUNDAY CLOSING

Success for the movement now under way to place a Sunday closing measure for California barber shops on the November election ballot would not affect the working hours of barbers in Santa Ana, it was pointed out today, for there are no shops in this city operating on the Sabbath.

On the other hand many Santa Ana barbers are backing the proposal in the belief that a six-day week is a good thing not only for the individual barbers but also for the business. The measure is supported by the state associations of master barbers and journeymen barbers. Petitions will be circulated with a view to obtaining the 90,000 names required to place an initiative measure on the ballot. More than 40 other states have similar laws.

Luncheon at Beach Is Delightful Affair

Delightful in every detail was the 1 o'clock bridge luncheon, another of the series of Santa Ana Ebell vanishing affairs, which was held yesterday at the attractive beach home of Mrs. J. A. Tarpoley, 2804 Ocean Front, Newport Beach.

The hostesses, who were Mrs. Tarpoley, Mrs. S. A. Jones, Mrs. W. W. Kayes and Mrs. T. O. Hume, served a fish course, and the decorations for the affair, as well as the centerpiece of combined bouquet of iris, sweet peas and other flowers, carried out the St. Patrick's motif which was seen in the shamrock table.

During the afternoon, prizes went to Mrs. G. P. Campbell, Mrs. R. L. Bayless, Mrs. J. C. Clark, Mrs. MacVicker Smith and Mrs. J. L. Slipp, a guest of Mrs. Tarpoley from Portland, Ore.

Guests for the affair were Mrs. J. C. Clark, Mrs. O. H. Umberham, Mrs. A. Thordike, Mrs. J. B. Kester, Mrs. Marcus Lacy, Mrs. MacVicker Smith, Mrs. R. E. McClellan, Mrs. R. L. Bayless, Mrs. J. H. Donald Wasser Wins Pretty Hometown Girl For His Bride

Of special interest to a host of friends was the announcement issued today of Miss Vera Marie Bernadino of Miss Vera Marie Bernadino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Berg of Hemet, and Donald W. Wasser, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wasser, 401 South Sycamore street.

The marriage ceremony was a very charming one at which the Rev. Lowell officiated in the First Congregational church of the Gate City. The bride wore the smart little knitted suit of delicate shell-pink in which she was going to travel when they left for a southern honeymoon. Her hat was of lace straw and felt in the same hue, while pumps and hosiery were in soft gray. She wore the strand of crystals which was Mr. Wasser's bride gift. Shell-pink sweet peas combined with lilacs of the valley and maiden hair fern formed the great cluster of flowers completing her effective appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Batterman were the attendants, Mrs. Batterman being the former Miss Alice Wasser, a sister of the bridegroom.

After the marriage vows were taken, the four young people returned to Glenwood Mission Inn where a daintily served wedding dinner was enjoyed before the new Mr. and Mrs. Wasser left for their automobile honeymoon. Mr. Wasser is a graduate of Santa Ana high school and junior college, and since his graduation has been associated with his father in orange growing on their ranch near Anaheim.

His bride attended school in Whittier, following her high school course with one at Whittier college, of which she is an alumna.

Church Dinners Brought to Close

The series of Study-Dinners which have been carried through four Wednesday evenings at the First Congregational church, was brought to a close Wednesday of this week, with a most inspiring address by Dr. Geo. L. Marsh, recently of Athens, but now at Elgin Place, Claremont, who spoke on "The New Birth in Greece, Turkey and Bulgaria." Beginning with the quotation "I am an Internationalist, because I am a Christian," he brought out the idea that American Christian mission schools are a quiet, but powerful, influence for character training, which permeates not individuals alone, but through the individuals, the nations of the world. He spoke of the contributions of Greece to world, in art, beauty, literature and religion, and of Athens as the second most significant city in the world.

The greatest and most far-reaching message from Greece was that of Christian Paul, as he spoke to the Athenians on Mars Hill, said the speaker. Bulgaria, reaching eagerly for better education for its youth, the many communities offering sites for the Haskell school now located at Pardin, a training and kindergarten school, were told by Dr. Marsh.

Turkey's many changes, within a few years, beginning with the exchange of the fez for hats, the discarding of veils by women; the adoption of the Latin alphabet coupled with the edict that all must learn to read and write and the separation of church and state were told.

"No school in Turkey may teach religion, but the mission schools are welcomed, as never before, used by Turkish people, and there is no edict against showing in lives, the fruit of the Christian religion," Dr. Marsh said in closing.

Woman Voters

At yesterday morning's board meeting of the League of Woman Voters, held in the Y. W. C. A. plans were made for celebrating the first anniversary of the league's founding, with a 12 o'clock luncheon to be held in Ketter's cafe Thursday, March 20.

A program will be given in the afternoon hours, with Mrs. Carl Meek as chairman planning its features.

Lord Dunsany Program Is Entertainment At The Barn

So general an interest had been aroused in last night's meeting of the Community Players in The Barn, that an unusually large crowd assembled for the Dunsany program prepared under the direction of Harriet Owens Enderle, relating for a lively discussion of the play and all matters pertaining to the Players, as they enjoyed the delectable cookies, sandwiches and coffee of the social hour.

Glady Simpson Shaffer, general chairman, announced that there would be no business meeting, and instead the time would be given over to program features. Estelle Card Beeman, who scored such a success in the latest production, "Sun-Up," read an interesting and informative paper on Lord Dunsany, quoting frequently from Edward Hale Bierstadt's "Life of Dunsany." She compared his talent and his work with those of Synge and William Butler Yeats, declaring that where Synge's writing was clear but not always rich, and Yeats' was rich but not always clear, Dunsany's poetry and plays possessed both qualities to a marked degree. She also told interesting details of the poet-playwright's life and family history, and the careful education that gave him, once, metaphor and Oriental history upon which to draw.

"Dunsany takes such a joy in his own work that he likes that joy to be shared by others," she explained. "He is happy in his work, his family and his home."

In presenting Dunsany's "A Night at an Inn," Mrs. Enderle expressed an appreciation for the assistance of members not in the cast, citing especially Miss Louise Tubbs whose aid in costuming the little play and preparing the settings, had been invaluable. Costumes were unique especially that of the god, "Kleish," impersonated by John Dunlap, whose appearance was weirdly terrifying in bronze green draperies and heavy sandals and with a grotesque mask which had been cleverly contrived by Mrs. Marshall Harnois. The footlights which added so much to the effect, had been built by Charles Eubank and were his gift to The Barn, while the programs which were an innovation, were the gift of T. H. Glenn.

Mrs. Enderle had full co-operation of every member of her cast, so that the play was presented with more attention to detail and more finish than is usually the case with the informal Barn productions. Each member of the cast was left perfect, and the characterization of each was excellent.

Frank Lansdown played the part of "A. E. Scott-Fortescue," while his fellow merchant-sailor—and a disreputable lot they were—were Arthur Collins, Wylie Carlyle and Thomas H. Glenn. The priests of Kleish were enacted by Fred Humiston, Cecil Wilson and John A. Tessmann, while John Dunlap was the god himself.

Musical added pleasant variety to the program and Fred G. Perry pleased everyone with his beautifully rendered oboe solos, "Pastoral" and "Melodie" by Arthur Foote, and "Legende" by Godard. Alan Revill, who is one of the standbys of the association, was his accompanist, remaining at the piano to assist Robert L. Brown, a member of the governing board, in his solos, "McGregor's Gathering," a particularly stirring Scottish song by Lee, and by request, "On the Road to Mandalay" by Oley Speaks.

Mr. and Mrs. Carson Smith, Mrs. Shaffer and Mrs. Charles Riggs with their aides, served refreshments during the social hour. Mrs. Riggs having baked fifteen dozen cookies for the event.

Van Ness Avenue Home Setting For Luncheon

Wedding at Manse Is of Interest Here

Of interest to many Santa Anans was the pretty wedding which occupied yesterday in the manse of the First Presbyterian church when Miss Dorothy Stiff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Stiff of Orange, and Nat Mallory, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Mallory of Oakland, were married. The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the church read the service.

The ceremony took place before an improvised altar of flowers, and the bride, who was given away by her father, was beautifully gowned in white satin, made in silhouette fashion, with a lovely long tulle veil, caught into a coronet-shaped cap with a band of real lace. She carried a graceful shower of white rosebuds and lilies of the valley with maiden hair ferns.

Maid of honor was Miss Gretchen Frisbee, who was dressed in lavender silk, with a bouquet of variegated spring blossoms, and Miss Clara Wallall, a bridesmaid, wore rose georgette with a pastel-shaded bouquet of flowers.

Mr. Mallory was attended by Mark Kerns and W. J. Ourlain. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Ruth Armstrong played several solos, and Miss La Verne Harrell sang "I Love You Truly." The Rev. and Mrs. McFarland are old friends of the bride, and only the immediate families and close friends witnessed the ceremony.

After the services, a reception was held for the guests in the manse, and the bride cut her huge wedding cake, after which the couple slipped away on a wedding trip to San Diego and Imperial valley. They will make their home on Pixley street in Orange. Mr. Mallory is managing the Woolworth store in Orange.

Plan Affair In Los Angeles

Members of the telephone operators' basketball team of this city are planning a trip to Los Angeles on March 14 where they will play the Seven-Forty club of that city. This week the local girls were defeated in a game of basketball by the Long Beach Y. W. C. A. team by a score of 22 to 24. The game was played in the Tustin union high school gymnasium.

Those planning to attend the affair in Los Angeles are the Misses Lucille Huston, Pearl Vicker, Marcella Brown, Mervell Dollahite, Marguerite Cogswell, Sarah Baldwin and Gertrude Bates.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The home of Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, 603 Orange avenue was the scene Wednesday afternoon of a unique borrowing party, when the South East Section of the Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church met for their regular March meeting.

Mrs. E. F. Gaeb opened with prayer and conducted the business session. New officers, Mrs. W. C. Vieira leader, Mrs. D. A. Bear vice leader, and Mrs. J. W. Flagg secretary-treasurer, were elected during the session.

Mrs. R. J. Brown on behalf of the section presented Mrs. Gaeb, the retiring leader, with a beautiful basket of jonquils.

The committee with Mrs. Kellogg as chairman, assisted by Mrs. D. A. Bear, Mrs. C. S. Kendall, Mrs. F. M. Horning, Mrs. C. A. Miller and Mrs. Myrtle Brown, had prepared a novel entertainment. A prize was given Mrs. Estella Gray for bringing the greatest number of borrowed articles, and the second to Mrs. W. C. Vieira.

Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cakes were served by the committee.

The Women's Union of the Congregational church met for the regular monthly meeting Wednesday, beginning with a potluck lunch with about forty women present.

During the afternoon, a business meeting was held, with Mrs. E. M. Nealley, president, in charge. An invitation was accepted by the association to visit at a Santa Ana laundry at 1:30 on March 12, as one of a number of the groups being shown the workings of a modern laundry.

The program included solos by Mrs. Pearl Smith Livesey, accompanied by Mrs. Laura Scott Parks; a reading by Mrs. A. D. Hoenshel, current religious news, with special reference to the association of Russian Jews, Mohammedans and Christians for "the protection of brotherly love," given by Mrs. H. H. Dana, and a fine account of the Pilgrimage to Jerusalem (the Congregational community for the residence of retired missionaries and missionaries on furlough) was given by Mrs. N. A. Beals.

Past Presidents Entertained at Los Alisos

Los Alisos, the suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, was the setting yesterday for the second of the three annual meetings of the Past Presidents' club of the Santa Ana Ebell society. Acting as hostess for the group, Mrs. Cruickshank had decorated her home with quantities of lavender sweetpeas.

The long table was laid with laid with orchid tinted crystal ware and gleaming silver. In the center was an elaborate bouquet of lavender sweetpeas and on either side of the beautifully arranged bowl were miniature bouquets arranged in candelabra holders. Nut baskets and other table appointments were in lavender.

Following the dainty luncheon, guests adjourned to the Cruickshank gardens where they had the pleasure of glimpsing the earliest of spring flowers in formal landscaping. The yard was gay with the yellow jonquils, daffodils and vari-colored sweetpeas.

During the informal business meeting, a discussion of measures to be introduced in the federation session was conducted.

One of the most interesting features of the occasion was noted when Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, of Los Angeles, who was founder of the local Ebell society, presented the Past Presidents club with a beautifully designed Japanese tapestry which she secured while traveling in the Orient. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lanier Bartlett, noted authors of the California novel "Adios," motored to this city with Mrs. Bartlett.

Mrs. Victor Montgomery and Mrs. W. L. Grubb, past presidents, were unable to be present because of illness. Those who were present included Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, Mrs. J. R. Medford, Mrs. E. D. Buss, Mrs. S. M. Deane, Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, Mrs. Sam W. Nau, Mrs. A. J. Lawton, Mrs. C. F. Crose, Mrs. J. E. Gowen, Mrs. John Clarkson, Mrs. Terry E. Stephenson, Mrs. S. W. Stanley and Mrs. F. E. Attend Classes In Long Beach

Members of the Girl Reserve ranks, as well as advisors and those connected with the work have been very much interested in the series of classes in Girl Reserve advisory training which is being offered each Thursday night in Long Beach, under the instruction of Dr. Jessie McClellan, who is in the sociology department at University of Southern California.

Dr. McClellan has been speaking on "The Philosophy of Program Planning." Those who attended her class last night from Santa Ana included Mrs. Gail Sleeth Smith, Mrs. Grace Zaiser, Mrs. Cassius Paul, Miss Esther T. Couch, Santa Ana high school girls' advisor, Miss Dorothy Cartwright, the Girl Reserves advisor, Miss Evelyn Harding, Miss Marjorie Schweitzer, Miss LaVonne Olsen, Miss Marion Parsons, Miss Martha McPeak and Miss Grace Marcher.

The committee with Mrs. Kellogg as chairman, assisted by Mrs. D. A. Bear, Mrs. C. S. Kendall, Mrs. F. M. Horning, Mrs. C. A. Miller and Mrs. Myrtle Brown, had prepared a novel entertainment. A prize was given Mrs. Estella Gray for bringing the greatest number of borrowed articles, and the second to Mrs. W. C. Vieira.

Bridge Club of Mothers and Daughters Meets

Members of an interesting bridge club of mothers and daughters were guests last evening of Miss Vina Belle Bryant, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lee Bryant, 112 East Walnut street. Following the bridge games a late supper was served at the bridge tables, the emerald green of the St. Patrick motif seen in the appointments forming an attractive contrast with the snowy linens.

Tallies were in St. Patrick's designs and prizes at the bridge game went to Mrs. Clyde Martin of Anaheim, first, and to Mrs. A. P. Dresser, second.

The club has been organized for the past six years and includes six mothers and six daughters. At last night's affair a pleasant feature of the evening was a radio program from station KREG with a solo, "Mother Machree" sung for the club members by Eddie Marble of that station.

Included in the group sharing the pleasant evening were Mrs. Clayton Hutchins of Orange and her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Martin of Anaheim; Mrs. Frank Cope of Orange, and her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Rice of Corona; Mrs. A. P. Dresser and daughter, Miss Dorothy Dresser; Mrs. L. C. Underwood and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ray Underwood; Mrs. Agnes Montgomery and Miss Louise and Mrs. Millie Woodsell. Bryant, Miss Hattie Belle Wall.

Mrs. McGee Hostess To Luncheon Club Yesterday

Mrs. Daisy McGee was hostess yesterday to the members of her informal luncheon club with a potluck luncheon at her home, 519 West Second street.

Using a myriad of pretty sweet peas about the home, Mrs. McGee carried out a spring motif. The afternoon was passed in chatting and sewing.

Guests of Mrs. McGee were Mrs. J. L. Es of Santa Ana, Mrs. Leon Eubank, Mrs. J. K. Fleischman, Mrs. Charles Arnold, Mrs. J. P. King of Anaheim, Mrs. George Merriman of Orange and Mrs. D. H. Thompson.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

FRIDAY—The Mixing Bowl Unearth That Cold While It Is Young

If you are well, stay away from people who have colds—colds are infectious and easily transferred. Keep your health normal by wearing sufficient clothing, live and sleep in fresh warmed rooms and eat plenty of alkaline foods, i. e., fresh fruits and vegetables.

If a head cold has already attacked you, go to bed if possible for one day or longer. Absolute rest will do much to relieve the inflammation which has closed up the tiny canals which drain the facial sinuses into the nasal passages. We would not permit the kitchen sink to remain clogged and unusable—why endanger our precious bodies and health by a condition comparable to the clogged sink? When a head cold persists, see your doctor and let him take for you the proverbial stitch in time.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Tomato-Cheese Salad
6 medium sized tomatoes
1-8 pound Roquefort cheese
6 tablespoons cottage cheese
1 tablespoon onion, minced, or 1 or 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Lettuce for garnishing
French dressing

This is a delightful luncheon salad combining nourishing food and attractive color combination. Such a salad would be the choice of the gourmet, the connoisseur in food.

Select firm, nicely ripened tomatoes, uniform in size. Scald and peel them and put on ice to chill before further preparation. The filling can be prepared before serving time and be all the better. Buy a grade of Roquefort cheese that is very soft and mellow. Scoop into pieces with a fork and mix with the cottage cheese, minced chives or green onions, a little salt and pepper, and just enough mayonnaise to moisten the filling. Chill well.

At serving time cut slice off the stem-end of each tomato and scoop out the soft pulp. Fill the cavity loosely with the cheese mixture, place on a lettuce garnish and pour a little French dressing around, not over, the tomato.

The tomato pulp left over, combined with shredded lettuce and mayonnaise, makes delicious sandwiches when spread between thin slices of buttered brown toast.

Each salad, and there are six of them, has a calorie value of about 125. Few of these calories are fat-makers and all of them are good for one's general health.

MURDER MYSTERY AT WALKER TODAY

The unusual talking drama, "The Phantom in the House," is being offered patrons of Walker's State theater today and tomorrow, and from advance reports it is excellent film entertainment. Ricardo Cortez is featured, with Nancy (Gold Digger) Welford, and Henry B. Walthall in leading roles.

Walthall is the father who goes to prison for a murder committed by his wife, Grace Valentine. After 15 years' incarceration he is freed, to find his daughter, played by Ricardo Cortez, a poor man, while her socially ambitious mother seeks to marry her to a title. Another murder is committed, which precipitates some very strong dramatic situations, and affords every opportunity for these distinguished players to reveal their best talents in this all-talking release.

Also on the bill is a Lloyd Hamilton all-talking comedy, "His Big Minute." Graham McNamee news-casting the news hot off the wire in Universal's unique newsreel; a Vitaphone talking novelty, "On the Rancho," and the horoscope for those persons born in November.

'BALDPATE' DRAMA NOW AT BROADWAY

George M. Cohan's "Seven Keys to Baldpate" starring Richard Dix opens a three day engagement at the Fox-Broadway theater today, succeeding "The Sky Hawk," which closed there last night after playing since last Monday.

The ability of talking pictures to bring the greatest plays of the stage to the screen for the world to hear and see is strikingly demonstrated in this film.

The story of "The Seven Keys to Baldpate" is well known throughout the country, the story having been shown on virtually every stage in the country. William Hollowell Magee, writer of fiction, (Richard Dix) wagers $5000, that if he can have absolute quiet, he can write a novel in 24 hours. He is sent to Baldpate inn, closed for the winter, and is given the "only" key to the place.

Soon after he starts his work, a second key is inserted in the lock at the inn, and from that time until the end, the novelist finds himself involved in one of the biggest of mysteries he has ever faced.

Six Initiated By Legion Auxiliary

LA HABRA, March 7.—Ten members of the Anaheim Legion auxiliary conducted the initiation services at the regular meeting of the local chapter Wednesday evening. Six were initiated.

Bouquets of flowers made the hall attractive for the occasion. Following the service a short business meeting was held and it was decided to hold a cooked food sale Saturday. An invitation was extended the La Habra auxiliary to attend the initiation and dance to be given in Anaheim, March 18.

CHILDREN TO SEE TIGER HUNT FILM

Billed as a sequel to "Simba," the Martin Johnson wild animal picture, "Hunting Tigers in India," which opened a two day engagement at the Fox-West Coast theater here yesterday, will be held over through Saturday, it was announced today by Supervisor John Rantz, of the Fox theaters.

The picture, because of its educational value, will be held over so that the school children of Santa Ana will have a chance to see it, Rantz said. For their benefit the Saturday matinee for children will be one of the biggest that the theater has offered in the past several months. Aside from the regular feature, children will see "Hunting Tigers in India" at a reduced price.

The picture has been endorsed throughout the country by educational bodies and the holding of the picture here for an extra day for the benefit of school children is in keeping with this endorsement.

Today, with "Hunting Tigers in India," is seen and heard the all-talking picture, "The Grand Parade," a story of the old time minstrel.

Fred Scott and Helen Twelvetrees have the important roles in the picture, a story that will be remembered here a long time. The music in the show is particularly good.

A Fox movietone news reel also is shown.

Late News From Orange County Communities

New Clubhouse Planned By Buena Park Women

COMMITTEE TO HOLD SESSION TUESDAY NIGHT

BUENA PARK, March 7.—Plans for a new clubhouse will be discussed at a meeting of the building committee next Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. George Trapp. The committee, appointed at yesterday's meeting, consists of Mrs. H. R. E. Warren, president; Mrs. Parrish J. Salter, Mrs. W. E. Gunby, Mrs. L. A. Fry, Mrs. L. T. Wilsey, Mrs. George Trapp and Mrs. Pauline J. Cole. The club has approximately $1,400 in the building fund and owns the site at Grand avenue and Eleventh street, with the present building clear of indebtedness. A total of $542.97 was reported as the amount cleared from serving suppers to the Kiwanis club during the past year.

Mrs. Marcus W. Robbins, of San Diego, president of the Southern District federation, will be the principal speaker at the March 21 meeting of the Buena Park Women's club, according to announcement made at the business meeting of that organization Thursday afternoon. Other guests of honor who will be present at that time includes Mrs. H. M. Sammis, of San Diego, state chairman of music, and Mrs. Joseph Thurston, of Laguna Beach, president of the Orange County federation.

Another important announcement made at the meeting was the birthday party to be given in the clubhouse March 8, which will mark the 41st anniversary of the Buena Park's club, the oldest club in the southern district. This affair will open with a 6 o'clock dinner, to which members and their husbands are invited. Mrs. C. B. Snyder, Mrs. Parrie Salter, Mrs. L. T. Wilsey, Mrs. E. W. Thurman, Mrs. W. E. Gunby, Mrs. J. F. Wagg and Mrs. Parrish Costar comprise the committee in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. L. T. Wilsey was appointed chairman of the nominating committee by the president, Mrs. H. E. Warren, and Mrs. L. H. Tanquary and Mrs. O. E. Pike were selected as the other two members. This committee will report at the April 3 meeting, when officers will be elected.

Mrs. J. F. Wagg and Mrs. Pauline Cole were appointed on the committee to make presentation of three flags, the Girl Reserve flag, Christian flag and American flag to the Buena Park Junior Girl Reserves at the meeting on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Parrie Salter, county chairman of birds, flowers and wild life, announced that the wild rose had been selected as the national flower.

Mrs. Lester Schofield and Mrs. Mary Boden were welcomed as new members and Mrs. Snow was a visitor.

Mitchell Named Census Worker

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 7.—L. E. Mitchell, Thursday was notified by Stanley E. Goode, census supervisor, that he was appointed enumerator of the federal industrial census for the second supervisory district including Garden Grove, Seal Beach, Sunset Beach, Westminster, Wintersburg, Talbert, Midway City, Los Alamitos, Bolsa, Huntington Beach. Mr. Mitchell began his work today. He has resided many years in this district and is the son of City Trustee J. W. Mitchell.

Flower Show And Garden Event Set For April 11, 12

LAGUNA BEACH, March 7.—Plans have been made by the Garden club of this city to give the annual flower show and to hold the annual garden contest jointly, the dates set being April 11 and 12. This is the second event for each of them. The Community playhouse has been engaged for the occasion.

Mrs. Joel E. Handy has been made general chairman, to have the assistance of committees appointed later. The garden contest awards will be made public at the conclusion of the flower show. Five divisions will participate, being gardens with 100 to 200 feet of frontage, 40 to 100 feet of frontage, under 40 feet, gardens less than a year old, and the best planting in the business district. Special awards in addition will be made for the best nook in a garden, the best rock garden spot, the best pool and the best lawn.

The area from which entries may be made includes Laguna canyon as far as the Green Goose ranch, and along the coast from Emerald Bay to Coast Royal.

DELEGATES TO P.-T. A. MEET NAMED AT H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 7.—The Parent-Teacher association at their regular meeting held Thursday afternoon selected a nominating committee to nominate a list of officers for the year. The committee will report at the next meeting to be held the first Thursday in April. The committee is composed of Mrs. C. W. Patrick, chairman, Mrs. A. J. Severick, and Mrs. Roy K. Smith.

The association voted to send the president, Mrs. Margaret Colvin, and the president-elect to the state convention at Riverside in May.

Following the business session there was an interesting program. Prize winners in the art essay contest fostered by the association were announced. The Laguna art collection had been shown at the school and the students were asked to write compositions. Swen Hamren won first and Helen Foster won second. Each received $1. Sixteen children received honorable mention, as follows: Beulah Cairns, Sam Graham, Lily May Lee, Gladys Woheken, Billy Ann Austin, Harry Inche, Ellen Diekoff, Lloyd Bledsoe, Rose Delgo, Glendora Donald, Tina Zerounian, Eddie Eader, Marian Winters, Helen Simmons, Dorothy May Proctor, Jack Watts. The judges were three elementary school teachers, Miss Smith, Miss Dwyer and Miss Akins.

Miss Funk, primary teacher, gave a demonstration of new methods of teaching reading, teaching students to read the first day they come to school. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Edgar Wilson, Mrs. H. McCarty, Mrs. W. A. Vandever. They served wafers and tea. The next meeting will be held the first Thursday in April and will honor the eighth grade graduates and their parents. M. G. Jones, superintendent of the high school, will address the students and parents on the subject of entrance into high school.

CITIZENS, CITY COUNCIL AGREE ON SEWER PLAN

LAGUNA BEACH, March 7.—Complete agreement as to the best plan of four alternatives placed before the city council and citizens' committee this week resulted in selection of the treatment plant plan over the one of dumping raw sewage into the ocean for the sewer district.

Though the cost of the treatment plant will bring the total to $100,000 more than the direct dumping plan, the danger of defiling the beaches or the possible general belief of such defiling weighed in favor of the more costly one of installing a treatment plant.

Though the location of the treatment is yet to be decided, no site not outside the city will be given consideration.

In the discussion of the advantages and disadvantages of treatment plans and direct dumping, the danger of the state health authorities considering a possibility which might confront the municipality, and all other likewise.

Figures presented by City Engineer A. J. Stead and checked by the committee and council indicated that the cost per lot would be in the neighborhood of $110.

That portion of the city which is already sewered, being chiefly the cliffs and the plat in the business district, though extending nearly to Sleepy Hollow, would not be brought under the general cost but would be required to stand only that portion which it is likely to have to bear in any event, as repairs are required in the near future.

The engineering department will prepare plans and specifications to be presented to the committee and council as soon as ready. Heretofore, most of the work has been of a preliminary nature in order to decide on what plan is to be pursued.

Members of the citizens' committee present were Charles J. Coll, Frank Gowan, Joseph R. Jahraus and Andrew S. Hall, only John Jehle being absent.

BUENA PARK CLUB TO VISIT WHITTIER

BUENA PARK, March 6.—The March 11 meeting of the local Kiwanis club will be dispensed with, as members will go in a body to Whittier, where Pat Millikan, district governor, will speak before the Kiwanis club there.

Walter G. Blossom, of Los Angeles, superintendent of education for the Southern California Edison company, entertained the club at the meeting held in the woman's clubhouse Tuesday evening with a history of the life of Edison, supplementing his talk with moving pictures showing the inventor's contribution to California.

PLAN CARD PARTY

SAN CLEMENTE, March 7.—Final plans for the Parent-Teacher association benefit card party March 24 at the Social club will be made at a meeting to be held Tuesday. The P.-T. A. will sponsor a song and dance program to be held at the schoolhouse March 28, according to Mrs. George Ferguson, president. Pupils of Mrs. Julia I. Chalk will give the program.

Gasoline Free As Truck Overturns In San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, March 7.—A gasoline truck and trailer, carrying a capacity load, ran off the highway two miles south of San Clemente yesterday and people began filling their tanks from the overturned truck. The truck was owned by the American Truck and Tank Line company. The driver was not hurt. Missing the road the truck sank in the mud, tipped over and rolled down an embankment.

FOUR NAMED ON COMMITTEE TO CUT OIL FLOW

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 7.—The oil curtailment committee of five members was increased here yesterday to a committee of nine by the appointment of four new members. The original committee consisted of T. B. Talbert, chairman; Walter Thompson, Standard Oil company; Al Greer, Associated Oil company; Al Burckett, Ventura Oil company; Frank Harder, Rex Oil company. The new members named yesterday were John Marion, Marion Oil company; E. P. Blaney, independent operator; Mr. Fraser, Signal Oil company; Bob Hickerson, Hickerson Oil company.

Neil Anderson, oil umpire, stated today that the curtailment here was effective. At present 87 per cent of the producers in this field are signed on the curtailment agreement to cut production 40 per cent. Not all of the producers have been seen as yet. It is expected the cut here will be 100 per cent efficient.

FARM BOARD GIVEN PRAISE IN SPEECH

LA HABRA, March 7.—H. E. Drobrish, chief investigator of the state bureau of marketing, was the speaker at the noon meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday in the Masonic temple.

"The Federal Farm board with its unlimited capital will stimulate co-operative marketing and is going to mean much to the farmer if he learns to limit his production accordingly," Drobrish said.

Why be Thin, Tired Out and Nervous All The Time

Gain in Health, Energy and Vitality

You can take Cod Liver Oil for the Vitamins it contains — the greasy oil without the Vitamins has no medicinal value.

By a special process McCoy's able chemist has extracted these precious Vitamins (A and D) from pure Vitamin-tested Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and put them into sugar coated tablets.

So why take fishy tasting Cod Liver Oil when you are sure of getting all the Vitamins you require in these new tablets?

For every ailment, malady or run-down condition for which Cod Liver Oil is prescribed, the new and improved McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets are equally as good. Bear in mind that we would not be allowed to make this statement if it was not true.

Two tablets equal in Vitamin potency one teaspoonful of pure Cod Liver Oil. Druggists everywhere dispense them—60 tablets, 60 cents. No drugs—Vitamins only.—Adv.

NEW OFFICERS SELECTED FOR PORT EXCHANGE

CORONA DEL MAR, March 7.—The Newport Harbor Builders' Exchange met Thursday evening at the Pallasades club, Corona Del Mar for the monthly dinner.

The annual election of officers was held. George E. Russell of Balboa Island and Fred J. Crosier, of Corona Del Mar, were re-elected on the board of directors; Charles Phipps of Newport Beach; Willard Mellott and George Healy of Costa Mesa, new members of the board.

The new board of directors immediately elected George E. Russell as president, the office of secretary being left open. Lester Isbell was re-elected as treasurer.

The next meeting will be held the first Thursday in April, the place to be decided later.

Y. Secretary To Talk In Orange

ORANGE, March 7.—A. M. Chesley, of San Francisco, state Y. M. C. A. secretary, will address the Hi-Y boys at a meeting at the Presbyterian church tonight at 7 o'clock. Later the boys will adjourn to the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool in Santa Ana for an hour of recreation. The local secretary, J. B. Wilber, will preside at the meeting.

Airplanes were flown approximately 200,000 miles in the United States last year.

WARNER NAMED FOR COUNCILMAN OF SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, March 7.—Hal Warner today is known as Councilman Warner, commissioner of streets and sewers and member of the auditing committee. The city council appointed him to fill the unexpired term of Oscar Easley, who died February 23. Warner took his seat after being sworn in by his father, Judge Fred S. Warner.

The council opened bids for ornamental lights to be erected along the state highway for a distance of two miles upon completion of paving the road to a distance of 50 feet, from curb to curb, starting at the north entrance of the city and ending two miles south near the San Clemente Clinic and hospital. Eleven bids were received.

It was voted to adjourn the meeting until next Wednesday at which time the council will decide upon the type of lights to be used.

Warner will serve until April 14, at which time an election will be held to fill his office. Two other councilmen are to be elected at the same time, the terms of Mayor Murphree and Ole Hanson Jr. ending at that time.

Masonic Lodge Of Buena Park Told Of Mexico Jaunt

BUENA PARK, March 7.—James Tuffree presented the program at the banquet given in the Buena Park Masonic temple Thursday evening, preceding the state Masonic meeting. Ralph Huff was master of ceremonies and introduced the speaker, who gave an interesting talk on his recent trip to Mexico, illustrated by motion pictures.

Bowls of sweet peas in pastel shades and other spring blossoms were used as centerpieces on the tables, where the turkey dinner was served by members of the Eastern Star.

The worthy matron, Mrs. Zilma Cummins, was chairman of the committee on arrangements, her co-workers being Mrs. Ilian Shaw, Mrs. Marsh Thomas, Mrs. Irene Coutts, Mrs. J. Dunbar, Mrs. Alma Gallagher and Miss Ann Fisk.

EDUCATORS HOME FROM CONVENTION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 7.—M. G. Jones, superintendent of the high school, and C. B. Baldwin, superintendent of the elementary school, have returned from Atlantic City, where they attended the National Educational association meeting. The convention lasted a week and brought together educators from all parts of the United States.

NEW JUDGE IS APPOINTED FOR BEACH SECTION

SEAL BEACH, March 7.—The city council, at a meeting last night, adopted a resolution naming the election of officers and designating the polling place for the municipal election here April 14. A. E. Swain was appointed as inspector and Mrs. E. Smohl, Mrs. Goldie Goodin and Mrs. Doris Piley as members of the board. The polls will be at the city hall. County precincts 1 and 2 are consolidated into precinct A for the election.

An ordinance which will be placed on the ballot at the April election under the referendum act, creating a salary of $10 per month for members of the council, was approved.

Fred Purdy, of East Seal Beach, was appointed to succeed Frank Wilson, who resigned as city judge at the last meeting.

The water superintendent was granted permission to purchase 10,000 feet of six-inch cast steel water pipe to replace the present two-inch line paralleling the state highway. The main will be moved over to the property line to allow for the widening and paving of the addition 10-foot strip proposed by the state highway commission.

DON'T throw away your Alpine labels. Until you see our premium folder you have no idea of the useful and attractive premiums that are now given away for them. Silver, kitchenware, jewelry, toiletsets, clocks, leather goods, sporting goods, toys for the youngsters ... just save your Alpine labels.

Alpine Milk is twice as rich as ordinary fluid milk, because more than half the water has been removed. Sealed and sterilized in air-tight containers, it reaches you always sweet and pure.

A real treat in coffee and cereals. Improves every recipe that calls for milk. Convenient. Economical. Order six cans at a time. Mail coupon below for free illustrated Premium Folder, which describes the hundreds of premiums that you can now get for Alpine Milk labels. Write today.

SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY OFFER

A fine, big 4 quart cooking pot of heavy, durable aluminum—the kind that wears for years. Something every woman wants. Watch your grocer's window. It is yours for only 18 Alpine labels, tall size—or 36 small size.

Just mail the labels, together with your name and address, to the Alpine Premium Dept., 1065 Mission St., San Francisco, Cal., and the pan will be sent you postpaid. Start saving Alpine labels today.

NOTE—This premium offer applies to continental United States, excluding Alaska and Panama, and is void in any state where redemption of premium labels is prohibited, taxed or restricted. Void in Washington and Nevada.

BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, March 7.—Mrs. C. E. Reid attended the meeting of the Brea Christian church missionary society Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Fry and daughter, Geraldine, of Orange, were Sunday guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Fry, of West Ninth street. Howard Moore has returned to his home in Redlands after a visit with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith, of Stanton avenue. Mrs. W. E. Gunby and daughters, Ruth and Phyllis, spent the week end in Palm Springs. Mr. Gunby returned home with them and stayed until Wednesday, when he accompanied Mr. and Mrs. F. J. McKenzie back to Palm Springs. Mrs. L. C. Ransbottom has returned to her home in Morro after a visit with friends in Buena Park and her sons in Long Beach and Eagle Rock.

Mrs. Jessie Deets has rented her home on Kingman avenue and is now living with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Butler.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Schmitz, of Stanton avenue, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hertzler, of Fuller Park, and Mrs. Earl Westlake, of Artesia, were Los Angeles visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Coughran, accompanied by friends from Phoenix, Ariz., attended a theater Sunday evening.

Mrs. Margaret Strain has rented her home on West Ninth street to Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Armstrong and is visiting her son, Luther Strain, and wife in Anaheim, and daughter, Mrs. Claude Allin, of Highland avenue, until the middle of the month, when she expects to leave for Texas, where she will spend the summer with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cummins attended the O. E. S. matrons' and patrons' banquet in Orange and Mrs. Cummins was a guest at a luncheon meeting in Brea.

Miss Eleanor Warren, who is teaching in the high school at Wasco, was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Warren, over the week end. Another daughter, Mrs. Maurice Thompson, of Orange, was a visitor in the Warren home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Middleton, accompanied by Mrs. C. R. Coyle and daughter, Ariene, who have been guests in the Middleton home, motored to San Diego and Tijuana over the week end.

The Misses Kate Story, Margaret Battelle and Helen Crowther, Leonard Carpo, Jimmy Collins and Irwin Battelle were Sunday afternoon guests of Miss Emily Binder, of Stanton avenue. A theater party was enjoyed Sunday evening by the Misses Dorothy and Margaret Westlake, of Artesia; Miss Emily Binder, of Buena Park; Ralph, Chris and Ted Miller, of Whittier, and Howard Moore, of Redlands. Miss Binder was hostess to the group of young people in her home later in the evening, when refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Mrs. G. D. Snyder returned home Wednesday after a visit with friends in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hensley have returned from a visit with relatives in Ventura. Charles King and daughters have moved from their home on West Tenth street to Whittier.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, March 7.—V. Ferguson has been confined to his home by illness since Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Edwards and younger son returned Monday from a trip of several days spent in Imperial county. An aunt of Mrs. Edwards at El Centro entertained them in her home and they attended the Imperial county fair. Returning to San Bernardino Sunday evening, the Edwards remained until Monday evening with Mrs. Edwards' sister, Mrs. Chester Hemstreet, and children. Mrs. Hemstreet and the boys expect to return to their local home Saturday and will remain as Chester Lee for whom the change of climate was made, is almost recovered from the effects of his long illness.

Miss Clara Miller, of Long Beach, came Wednesday to the home of her sister, Mrs. Linna Loomis, to visit for a few days.

Mrs. Lula Moore, of Rialto, mother of D. L. Gallagher, came Tuesday to the Gallagher home as a guest.

With surveys for the water pipe lines being made this week by the county surveyor's office, it is hoped that another week will see the petitions out. Statements by several engineers giving ideas of the cost of the system are to accompany the maps of the proposed district and the petitions when they are circulated.

The former Arnett property, located just north of the school, and recently taken in trade by George Clough for other property, is being remodeled.

Problems dealing with the water situation in Westminster and the proposed municipal water system were taken up at the monthly meeting of the local chamber of commerce Tuesday evening at the library. It is thought that the proposition will find favor with the people, practically all of whom have given verbal sanction to the plans being worked out by the chamber of commerce committee. The service station on Westminster boulevard owned by Jack Hawkins has been sold to Joe Skelton, who this week has taken over the business.

Announcements of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Hughes, of Altadena, Monday, has been received by local friends. Mrs. Hughes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knox, of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Falcke motored to Etiwanda, where they were entertained as guests for the day by Mrs. Lora Hildebrand. Mrs. Hildebrand formerly resided in Westminster.

EFFECTIVE RELIEF FOR WIDESPREAD ILL

Millions Enjoy It as Daily Diet

Constipation is an ancient ill. Modern diets with their soft foods have caused it to become about the most common ailment known to mankind. Lack of roughage in the diet is usually the cause. Add bulk to the diet and constipation disappears.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is bulk. Millions now eat it regularly. They are no longer subject to the evils of this dreaded disease, which is the source of many other physical ailments.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In addition, it supplies your body with iron which enriches the blood, building strength and the glowing color of health. With milk or fruit juices, or in many cooked foods, it brings important vitamins into the diet.

Use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN and it will never be necessary again to take pills and drugs that often create dangerous habits.

Two tablespoons daily will prevent and relieve constipation—in recurring cases, with every meal. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is delicious—and effective! Your grocer has ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, March 7.—Mrs. Harriet Haywood, widow of the late Rev. Benjamin S. Haywood, who was recently reported as improved in health, later contracted influenza and suffered a relapse.

House guests in the Dr. J. W. Harper home this week are Mrs. J. E. Downs, of Chicago, and Mrs. F. C. Wells, of Bloomfield, N. J.

The little son of Melbourne A. Gauer, principal of the Anaheim grammar schools, is in a hospital in Los Angeles for a few days for the purpose of undergoing a brain test as a culmination of his recent severe illness.

Mrs. V. C. Stocking, of Coronado road, Anaheim, is one of the entrants in the Los Angeles chamber of commerce small farm home contest.

Mrs. Clara Walsh, of 600 West Center street, has returned home from a short visit with friends in Los Angeles. While in Los Angeles Mrs. Walsh had the honor of being entertained by the past matrons and patrons of the Los Angeles chapter, Order of Eastern Star, at an all day meeting and complimentary dinner.

The third in a series of pre-Easter sessions of the Anaheim Men's Noonday Bible club was held Wednesday in the social hall of the Salem Evangelical church. The Rev. O. R. Schroeder, pastor of the German Baptist church was the main speaker, taking as his topic "The Parable of the Sower."

Funeral services were held today for the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Yorba, of Yorba, who passed away Tuesday following an operation. Recitation of the Holy Rosary was held at the Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral home last night, with the Rev. Father Mortimer Murphy of St. Mary's Catholic church, Fullerton, in charge.

F. W. Derrick of Monrovia has been appointed as manager of the Anaheim Laundry of the Southern Service company here, succeeding Jack Landale, who was recently transferred to San Pedro.

DOZENS of cereals have come and gone while this great product has been building and maintaining its position of undisputed leadership.

ROBBER'S SKIN BINDS MEMOIRS

BOSTON, March 7.—A book bound in human skin is one of the novel possessions of the Boston Athenaeum.

The epidermis once belonged to James Allen, a gentleman of numerous aliases who terrorized New England in general and Massachusetts in particular during the years between 1825 and 1835 as a highwayman.

When he died in prison in 1837 his will stipulated that some of his skin should be used to bind his memoirs, entitled "A narrative of the life of James Allen, alias George Walton, alias James Pierce, alias James H. York, alias Burley Grove, the highwayman."

The book in possession of the Athenaeum is one of two copies which were bound in accordance with the terms of Allen's will. No trace of the second volume has ever been found.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The flock of ducks quacked all at once. It seemed to be one of their stunts, while flying gaily through the air, in one long V-shaped line. Where'er the leader went, the rest all seemed to do their very best to trail along behind him and it made a picture fine.

The Tinies, sitting in their plane, all of a sudden seemed to gain a lead upon the ducks, and then the ducks quacked louder still. "They're sure excited," Scouty said. "They hate to see us surge ahead. Each time we start to leave them far behind, they get a thrill."

Then from below they heard a shot. "Twas from a hunter, like as not. The ducks were very smart. They seemed to figure danger near. Some turned to left and others right and soon they all were out of sight. "A gun," said little Copy, "is the one thing that they fear."

"If there's a hunter down below," cried Clowny, "I sure hope

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links, the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

FOUR AMERICAN GIRLS SEEK TO MARRY SEGRAVE

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, March 7.—(INS) Four proposals of marriage from American girls were received by Sir Henry Segrave, Britain's speed king, after he had captured the world's land speed record last year by driving his 1,000-horse-powered Golden Arrow racer along the sands of Daytona Beach at 231 miles an hour.

When he told one of these ladies, who had proposed to him in person, that he was married, she replied, "Oh, my dear, that does not make the slightest difference. I have all the money in the world. I will buy her off and send her away."

This incident and other reminiscences of his visit to America were revealed for the first time by Sir Henry at a dinner of the Authors' Club here.

Referring to the official welcome tendered him by Mayor Walker on his arrival in New York, Sir Henry said, "Out of the kindness of his heart, the mayor did the worst possible thing—he arranged a civic reception."

"We went to the city hall and faced a complete range of cameras. Realizing I was an Englishman, Mayor Walker said 'I know that you have never done this kind of thing before so I will help you. When you get to the bottom of the steps with one foot on the pavement and the other on the third step, look towards the Woolworth building. It does not matter whether you have seen it before or not. I will point it out. Only you must register surprise.'"

"Then there was the movie, a veritable invention of the devil. As we approached it Mayor Walker said to me, 'Take a line from me, boy. I have an election to fight. Now you say you knew me in England and that in England I am regarded as the greatest mayor that ever was' And I did."

"Later that evening there arrived at my hotel a case of the most impossible stuff. It was rank poison—but it was meant kindly."

"Recalling his visit to the White House, Sir Henry said that, accompanied by Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador whom he had just met, he was shown into the president's room."

"Sir Esme, walking over to the president's desk, said, 'How do you do, Mr. Hoover. This is Mr.—Mr. er—Mr.' Segrave, I whispered. 'Oh yes, Mr. Segrave, he drives motor car—rather fast.' The president gave me rather a sour look and said, 'Is that so?'"

Sir Henry said that the first time he ever moved quickly was when he was wounded with a bayonet in the war. He had been told, with others, to jump into a German trench which was believed to have been abandoned. Unfortunately that trench was full of Germans and having been in it for about a minute, he decided to clamber out. A German prodded him lustily from behind. "No one ever did a hundred yards as quickly as I did then," Segrave concluded.

SENATORIAL HORSEMANSHIP

Horseman and statecraft share the interest of Senator William E. Borah, and it's by regular appearances on bridal paths in the nation's capital that the dynamic Idaho legislator keeps fit for his arduous duties as chairman of the important Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Here you see him on his favorite mount, "Governor," during a morning canter in beautiful Rock Creek Park, Washington.

MODERN ADAM AND EVE

From the remote Galapagos islands, off the west coast of South America, Commander Eugene MacDonald, Chicago sportsman, has brought back this first picture of a 1930 Robinson Crusoe and his woman companion. He is Dr. Friederich Ritter, German scientist, and she is Hilde Koerwin, 26, former wife of a Berlin school teacher. Both gave up civilization for a back-to-nature life Adam and Eve existence on a desert island. MacDonald's yacht visited their retreat in the course of a South Sea cruise.

Pioneer Club

St. Patrick decorations prevailed at the March meeting of the Pioneer club of Sedgwick Woman's Relief corps when it met yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ida Deck, 824 Garfield street.

The usual short business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Rose Diers, after which the entertainment part of two guessing games was directed by Mrs. Miller. Prizes going to Mrs. Matilda Dearing and Mrs. Fannie Cunningham. The color scheme was used for decorations and refreshments of potato salad, salted wafers, tapioca cream, cake and coffee were served on small tables centered with low bowls of shamrock. The novelty nut cups were in potato holders. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Eunice Smith, 919 East Washington avenue, April 3.

Club members present yesterday were Mesdames Rose Diers, president; Alice Young, Abbie Vandermaast, Emma Smith, Alice Kryhl, Hannah Huntington, Emma Mosbaugh, Veronica Hogle, Ella Wilson, Addie Birdsell, Mary Ramsdell, Fannie Cunningham, Cassie Ferguson, Matilda Dearing and the hostess, Ida Deck. Those invited were Mesdames Retta Campbell, Ida Millen, Elizabeth Birkhead and Mrs. Gilman, a guest of Cassie Ferguson.

At the trial a prominent lawyer, who is also an authority on foreign laws, testified as "a friend of the court" that an alleged offense committed in Russia was punishable in Germany only when it was also punishable according to Russian law. In the new Russian criminal code there is no penalty for bigamy, the only relief available to the offended party being the privilege of bringing a civil suit for the purpose of having one or the other of the marriages declared invalid. Moreover, unlike most other countries, Germany recognizes Russian law. Hence Schultzein could not be punished by a German court.

Having apparently no alternative but to accept this view, the court acquitted Schultzein and ordered the state treasury to reimburse him for the expense he incurred in defending himself.

INDIAN LASHES SELF 35 TIMES AS BOOZE CURE

BONNERS FERRY, Idaho, March 7.—(INS)—A self imposed penalty of 35 lashes was the "liquor cure" used by Charles Isadore before he considered himself worthy to stand as chief of the Kootenai Indians.

The penitent chief stood quietly in the snow before members of his tribe and took the lashes across his back to more had permanently severed connections with the white man's firewater.

Isadore was stripped of his leadership last fall after he had disgraced his tribe by becoming so drunk at a pow-wow that he could not conduct the ceremonies.

A short time ago the ex-chief and two other tribesmen procured a consignment of rubbing alcohol. Their drinking bout ended in a stabbing affray, and all were thrown in the reservation jail. Scherer, they were brought in handcuffs before the new chief for punishment.

Turning to the assembled tribesmen, Isadore said: "It is I, Isadore, chief of the Kootenai, who will name the punishment for these men. You, Alex Pierre and Louis White, will work for seven days on the wood pile and at digging ditches."

He paused, while the Indians waited in silence.

"And you, Charles Isadore, I sentence to thirty-five lashes of the whip."

His punishment over, Isadore again addressed his tribe.

"Charles Isadore sentences himself to twice thirty-five lashes if ever again he drinks the white man's fire water," he said.

FORTUNE BEING USED TO PROVE BIBLE IS TRUE

LONDON, March 7.—(UP)—A fortune is being spent by Sir Charles Marston, Fumbridge, Wells, Kent, and Wolverhampton, to prove the Bible historically true.

Sir Charles, an ex-manufacturer and author of works on religion and industrial topics, takes pride in his numerous connections with America. His wife, Lady Marston, was Ruth Miller, of Ithaca, N. Y., the daughter of a prominent architect who designed the library of Cornell University. His two daughters are in the United States at present. The eldest, Marjorie, who is studying at Vassar, is head of the International Students' Association.

Sir Charles is a member of the American society in London and of several other British-American organizations. He is also a member of the House of Laity of the Church of England Assembly.

"I began spending about eight years ago, and I began with a perfectly open mind," he said in an interview.

"I am satisfied, and so are those working for me and with me in Palestine, Iraq and Egypt, of the historical accuracy of the Bible. People who know nothing of the history of Palestine are always ready to declare the Bible a myth."

"The excavations of Professor Walter Garstang at Jericho, of Doctor Langdon at Kish, in Iraq, and Doctor Flinders Petrie at Gerer, in South Palestine, have abundantly proved that the Old Testament Bible story is anything but a myth."

"People used to regard the walls of Jericho as merely a Biblical myth. Now professor Garstang has discovered the walls."

Times are changing.

FREESOLE, Neb., March 7.—(UP)—"The times are changing," according to former Rep. David Leedy. The other day a young man approached me and asked me if I would hire him on my farm. It's been 19 years since they have done that," Leedy states.

NEW YORK CURB

NE YORK, March 7.—(UP)—After holding within narrow trading range through the first hour, curb stocks developed impressive strength around noon today under the leadership of the amusement and petroleum shares.

Investment trust issues improved with Lehman corporation, selling nearly half a dozen points, while Loew's warrants moved up more than 2 points. Technicolor and Fox theaters A were firm.

Petroleum issues were featured by strength in Humble, Indian territory Oil, Standard Oil and Standard Oil of Indiana, all of which sold at new highs on the current movement. American Oil, which was held steady, somewhat and the issue held steady.

Utility issues were quiet and steady, while some demand developed for special issues like National Aviation, Walgreen, Goldman Sachs, Transamerica Corporation and Tri-continental preferred.

INSTALLMENT PLAN FINE

MARSHALL, Mich., March 7.—(UP)—Lewis Burt will pay for his indiscretions on the installment plan. He was fined two weeks probation as a down payment and the remainder of a $213.50 penalty imposed upon him after he was convicted of breaking and entering will be returned at the rate of $5 a week.

GRAVE SEARCH SUCCEEDS

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 7.—(UP)—A 57-year search for the grave of her brother, Lewis P. Smith, has been successful for Mrs. Charles A. Davenport of Rochester. Smith's grave was found recently at Fort Thompson, South Dakota, an Indian agency, where he had gone more than 60 years ago.

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, March 7.—(UP)—Continued ease in the money market continued to react favorably on standard and bond issues today, particularly in the railroad category. New highs for the year were scored by high grade issues such as Missouri Pacific of 1978 and St. Louis-San Francisco of 1978. Hudson and Manhattan Adjustment is also achieved a fresh 1930 peak on an advance to a point.

Foreign obligations developed brisk activity after a period of early dullness, with Italian issues coming to the fore. Convertible debentures were again well taken in the domestic utilities. Industrial issues were featured by activity in U. S. Rubber and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, March 7.—(UP)—Continually conflicting crop reports and as winging from bull to bear sides kept the Board of Trade in a bewildered condition today and at the close prices broke slightly. The market was extremely uncertain, traders buying and selling almost in the same transaction. Prices held steady until noon when they eased somewhat 10 below the previous close owing to denials of crop damage in Texas. Corn was off sharply but oats held firm.

At the close wheat was unchanged to 1/2c lower, corn was 1/2c lower and oats were 1/2c lower to 1/4c higher. Provisions were strong.

YESTERDAY'S DEMONSTRATIONS

The news dispatches concerning the meetings of the Communists and so-called radicals of yesterday over this country and other countries emblazoned the pages of our papers last night and this morning.

The few extremists that there are in the country, took advantage of the situation with a large number of unemployed to call protest meetings. Because of the character of the leadership in many of these places, the police kept them in bounds, and of course by the very nature of the case, there were conflicts, due to the desire to make addresses or to march to the official residences of the chief executives for the purpose of making a protest.

The numbers making up these crowds were not primarily Communists, in our judgment. When men are out of work and have been for months, they will meet at any place where it is suggested that the unemployed or those desiring to protest shall meet usually in a vain hope that something can be done to help them get work and consequently bread. To be sure, hungry men whose families have been in constant want become desperate and reach almost an irresponsible condition.

It is easy for those of us who have plenty to misunderstand and condemn them. Under proper leadership such crowds could be turned into congregations for prayer and supplication to God Almighty for help. Under other leadership they can be sent headlong to break down walls which they imagine separate them from the necessities for which they and their families are starving.

The latter kind of leadership is always ready and constantly wary, and much depends upon the way it is met. In San Francisco, instead of the police breaking up the meetings, making declarations as to the limitations which the meetings should take, the police helped organize them, furnished them escorts, piloted them to the city hall, and the officials addressed them. The meeting broke up in perfect order. We wonder what would have happened if the same degree of intelligence and interest were shown in every city, and they had marched to the city halls everywhere and the representatives would have expressed the sympathy which they undoubtedly feel for the unemployed, and explained how everything has been done that can be done for the alleviation of their distress.

The only lesson which can be gained from this for the workers is that they do not gain by having meetings under the leadership of the extremists, but we are afraid that instead of learning this lesson they may imagine that the government is against the poor and the needy. This would tend to breed the very sentiment of the Communist.

POULTNEY BIGELOW AND THE KAISER

Poultney Bigelow and the Kaiser were fellow students in the German university in which they both studied as young men. It was Poultney Bigelow in the early years and in the high time of the Kaiser's reign, who wrote eulogistic articles on the German emperor. He looked upon him as not only one of the great rulers of his time, but of all times. It was the time when Theodore Roosevelt was our national idol; and the man with whom he loved to compare the Kaiser in those days was Theodore Roosevelt.

Then came the war, with its hates and distortions, when the Kaiser became the scapegoat for the terrible conflict. Everybody consigned him to Tophet,—that region to which Carlyle used to consign all the people he did not like. The man who for years had been the Kaiser's dentist, added fuel to the flames that burned around his profitable patron, to some seemed a bit of politronery and mere ingratitude. Poultney Bigelow joined the chorus of hate. Well as he had known eulogistically as he had written him up, now discovered traits in the Kaiser which he never noticed before. The Kaiser was ripped off all his friends in allied countries.

The end of the war came. The "Hang the Kaiser" movement failed. The exile of Doorn came forth from time to time to explain a few things. Only a month ago he laid the story of that memorable conference, known as the Potsdam conference, held presumably on July 4, 1914, just before the declaration of war, at which, it was stated, the war was all planned out by the Kaiser and his military leaders. Now Poultney Bigelow admits that he has been all wrong, has asked the pardon of the Kaiser, and has been asked to visit him at Doorn. He has accepted the invitation. Bygones will be bygones. They will saw wood together, talk about old university days, and only incidentally refer to the "late unpleasantness."

We hold no brief for the Kaiser. In the days of his power he was always a good deal of a swashbuckler who loved to rattle his sword. Perhaps he was somewhat responsible for the war, but no more so than many others on his own side and on the other side. But we confess to a queer feeling toward a man who sees nothing but a hero in a friend, turns against him when he needs a friend badly, and then goes back to the object of his old flame. We would like to know how Poultney Bigelow will explain it all to his old university friend when they get together at the woodpile. Perhaps he will tell us sometime in one of those interesting magazine articles like he used to write.

A SERIOUS FAULT

Yesterday under directions of the judge, the jury in the case of the state versus former District Attorney Alex P. Nelson brought in a verdict of not guilty. This was done after the state had submitted its evidence, without any evidence for the defendant, and in doing this the prosecution as far as we know presented no opposition, indicating they were in perfect agreement with the motion.

If there was not sufficient evidence or law to warrant resistance by the district attorney to a directed verdict of not guilty, it does not seem to us that there was sufficient evidence to indict him in the first place, or to put him on trial after his indictment in the second place. Of course, if the grand jury had not been legally advised by the district attorney in respect to its duties it might have brought in an indictment on the basis of the general facts, not knowing the legal technicalities, but as we understand, this was not the case. The grand jury had the facts presented to it and were advised as to the law by the district attorney. The defendant should never have been forced, under the circumstances, to have secured an attorney. There should never have been the farce of the presentation of the evidence. If there was a miscarriage at the time that the indictment was voted, the district attorney, on examination of the facts, should frankly have said so himself to the court, and asked that the case be nolle prosequi. If this had been done, it could be understood, and would remove most of the onus which the defendant is bearing.

It is an exceedingly serious matter to have an indictment for a crime placed against any man. It is infinitely more serious to have it placed against a man who is as prominent in public life as is a former district attorney. The reason why it is more serious is because from the very nature of the case its news value, whether considered from the standpoint of a newspaper or just common gossip, is in proportion to the prominence of the individual indicted, and hence the story is spread abroad everywhere that a man has been legally and solemnly accused of crime by the official body designated by law for that very purpose.

When this has been done, without legal cause and with little or no foundation for it, as is evidenced in this case by the fact that the defendant did not have to bring in any evidence whatever to secure a decree from the judge that he was not guilty, it indicates that, with the same or similar legal knowledge used at the time that the indictment was to have been voted, the grand jury should have been told that there was not sufficient evidence and law in the matter to sustain any such indictment, for if it is the law now it must have been the law then.

A certain amount of the curse of the indictment and the publicity necessarily attending it will attach to the accused and stay with him in spite of the findings of the trial court. It arouses suspicion and questioning in the minds of people everywhere, and for this the defendant victim has no redress.

We do not know where the fault lies, but at some point it is perfectly obvious there was a woeful miscarriage of justice, either the defendant or the public was the victim, and on the face of the return it was the defendant who was victimized and must suffer. But at the same time it was also an injury to the public for such experiences as this break down respect for our department of justice.

GANDHI ON TRADING AT HOME

Those of us particularly interested in "trading at home" would hardly look to Mahatma Gandhi, the great leader of India, for supporting arguments. Yet because he is a zealous supporter of purchasing and using "home products," he has said much on the subject. At one time he said:

"We are departing from one of the sacred laws of our being when we leave our neighborhood and go out somewhere else in order to satisfy our wants. If a man comes from Bombay and offers you wares, you are not justified in supporting the Bombay merchant so long as you have got a merchant at your very door, born and bred in Madras."

Mr. Gandhi puts the matter quite strongly when he talks about the "sacred laws of our being." But if a person is at all sensitive it is difficult for him to meet friends who are merchants in Santa Ana if he has gone to the city to buy the same goods which the merchant sells, and has gone for no particular reason—just because distance lends enchantment.

Road to Join Americas In Prospect

—Pasadena Star-News

A great inter-continental highway from the southern countries of South America up north to Canada and eventually to Alaska, is in prospect. It will not be built tonight or tomorrow night. But it will be established, from present indications, by evolutionary development.

The Automobile Club of Southern California is sending an expedition by automobile down through Mexico, Central America and South America, to attempt to demark a feasible route for a great inter-continental highway, linking the three Americas and having feeders into the principal parts of all of the countries traversed by this projected great highway.

Creation of such a highway system would be of tremendous importance and significance in the development of the Americas and would have profound influence upon the relations between the United States and its sister republics of Latin America.

In the American republics to the south of the United States lies one of the richest regions in the world—regions which, for the most part, are yet fallow and awaiting intensive development. Already the preliminary steps have been taken to establish air communication with these countries. The building of a great highway all up and down the Pacific Coast, from the southern extremes of South America up to Canada, would have tremendous influence upon the material development of those potentially rich regions down there. North American capital and enterprise would be poured into those republics, for their development. Such development would be mutually beneficial to the United States and to the Latin republics.

"Yon Cassius Hath a Lean and Hungry Look!"

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE LESSON

I've disposed of the cook and the flivver,
I have moved to a cheap little flat,
I have sold my small store of denatured pre-war
And got rid of the dog and the cat.
For I lost all I had in the market
And the future, at present, looks black,
But my course I shall shift to the pathways of thrift
And I hope, by and by, to come back.

Hard luck can be turned to good fortune
If we learn, while it camps on our trail,
That saving each day in a sure steady way
Alone is of any avail.
I shall hoard each superfluous dollar
And exist on the plainest of fare,
And sternly refuse to peruse any news
That relates to a bull or a bear.

Afar from the maddening ticker
I shall stick to my own little trade,
Without any part in the financial mart
Where fortunes are lost or are made.
I shall save a good half of my earnings
As the hard-tolling workmen do,
Holding luxury down with a self-righteous frown
Till I have, say, a thousand or two.

And then I shall 'phone to a broker
And observe from a heart filled with hope;
"At last I can flash a small fistful of cash
If you happen to have some hot dope."
For I hear that the market is rising,
So why keep on plugging away,
When by taking a chance in the game of finance
You can double your wealth in a day?

"Nothing Down and Nothing a Week"

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Plenty of buyers and a business depression can no more go together than abundant rainfall and prolonged drought. If the flow of money to consumers is sufficient, they will do enough buying to sustain prosperity.

But we have just received a letter which asks, facetiously: "Is it any longer necessary to have money, when every merchant on earth is begging us to buy goods for nothing down and nothing a week?"

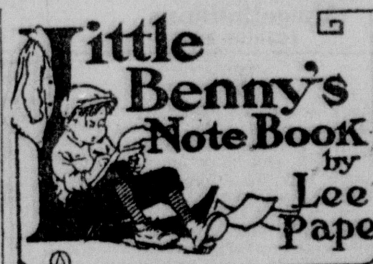

That raises the whole subject of installment selling. "It is the vilest system yet devised to create trouble, discontent, and unhappiness among the poor," says George E. Johnson, President of the Endicott-Johnson Corporation.

"Far from it," says A. R. Erskine, President of the Studebaker Corporation. "Installment selling is one of the greatest economic forward steps in modern times."

Which of these two men is nearer the truth, it is not easy to say. The facts, however, are plain. Take automobiles, for example. Nobody doubts that in 1929 this country produced over 5,000,000 cars. Equally plain is the fact that cars were sold on time to the value of about three billion dollars. So people are now hunting around for places to park several million cars on which installments of more than one billion dollars are still due.

To be sure, we have not yet been urged to buy chewing gum for a penny down and a penny a day. But millions of consumers are buying engagement rings on partial payments, and refrigerators, and oil heaters, and radio sets, and fur coats—not to mention false teeth. The Simple Simons of our day are not repulsed by unprogressive Piemen. "Show me first your penny" is not the slogan of the "Bigger, Better and Busier Merchants of 1930."

Is this a help or a hindrance? Is Mr. Erskine right, or is Mr. Johnson? That is the question we shall take up tomorrow. (Copyright, 1930, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

Pop was smoking and thinking in his private chair and I sed. Hay pop do you want to hear a grate idee how to make a lot of money? Id rather have the money, pop sed, and I sed, Well its a invention. I got the idee for it while I was brushing my teeth this morning. Im not surprised, pop sed. The gentleman who invented the steam engine got the idee while he was watching the tea kettle boiling, so I suppose while you were cleaning your teeth it suddenly occurred to you how to make artificial ivory, he sed.

No sir, it occurred to me how to make a mouthwash that would taste swell instead of fearful like most of them do, I sed, and pop sed, Ive herd much worse idees like that. Perhaps if you carry it around with you til your grown up and learn a little kemistry you mite put something together and a big mouthwash factory mite steel it from you, and youll always have the satisfaction of knowing that the idee was originally yours, even if nobody elts believes it, he sed.

Well G, pop I dont haft to wait that long, Ive put something together already, I sed. Everybody likes the taste of lemonade, dont they? I sed, and pop sed, Well, I believe I once herd of a man that didnt, but he was probably a crank so we wont count him. Go on, he sed, and I sed, Well, thats it, just make some nice sweet lemonade and add it to some ordnary mouthwash and it would taste like lemonade.

Hahaha, so it would, I meen would it, perhaps it wouldnt, pop sed, and I sed, Well all you haft to do is try it and find out. Some is in there, I sed.

Some what is in there, for Peet sake? pop sed, and I sed, Some lemonade is in our blue mouthwash.

What, that new full bottle of Pepino? pop sed, and I sed. No sir it was only about 3 quarters full or elts there wouldnt of been room for the lemonade.

What a calamity that would of been, I better empty it rite now before somebody thinks their poisoned, pop sed, and I sed, Well G, pop aint you even going to try the taste? and he sed, Ive thawt of it and thats plenty.

Proving its no cinch being a inventor.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson, of Garden Grove, were guests at a birthday anniversary party.

The post office at New Delhi was changed from Harbor to Gloryetta. John E. Otto was postmaster.

The Woman's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church met in the church parlors, and Mrs. G. J. Kennedy was elected president of the organization. Other officers were Mrs. D. L. Anderson, vice president; Mrs. W. H. Stevens, secretary; Mrs. T. J. Ralt, treasurer. Mrs. J. E. Gowen entertained with a unique party at which all of the guests were invited to bring their cats.

Thoughts On Modern Life

WHY WRITE OF RELIGION?

Now and then I come upon a curious friend who is surprised by the fact that now and then, in a newspaper column, I write frankly of religion.

I do it because religion, despite our studied poses of unconcern, is one of the deathless concerns of the human mind.

The intimate issues of life, and destiny that center in religion harass the spirit alike of the simple and of the sophisticated.

Years ago Walter Wellman suggested that there is nothing the American people like so well as being preached at, provided they don't know it's a sermon they're getting, and provided they don't have to go to church to get it.

Which was simply a racy way of saying that we are all lineal descendants of the anonymous Saxon noble immortalized in Bede's Ecclesiastical history!

This Saxon noble was pleading that Paulinus of York be given a hearing for his missionary plea, and the imagery and power of his pleading are unforgettable.

"Man's present life on earth, O King," he said, "in comparison with that time whereof we know nothing, is like unto a little spar-

"For, when thou sittest at feast with thy chiefs and thy ministers in winter-tide, and the blazing fire on the hearth warms the whole hall, and the gusts of winter rain or snow are raging without, then a little bird will flutter into your hall by one door and fly out swiftly by another."

"Whilst he is within, he feeleth neither winter nor storm; yet that brief interval of quiet is quickly past, and he is soon lost to thine eyes, in the wintry darkness from whence he came."

"Thus do we see man's span of life; what came before, and what shall come after, of that we know nothing."

"Wherefore, if this new doctrine can give us any sure help here, it would seem worthy of our attention."

We are pulled and hauled about by the haste of our machine age. We do not know the long evenings by dim candle-light that gave our fathers time to ponder the basis issues of existence.

But, even so, we are smitten by the mystery of life!

OUR CHILDREN

TIMID CHILDREN

Every dentist and doctor knows the timid child. His mother drags him to the office to see the doctor. The moment the doctor lifts a spatula and says, "Open your mouth, sonny," sonny opens his mouth but the outcome is not precisely what the doctor desires. Sonny screams murder.

The doctor coaxes, the mother pleads and threatens but sonny screams and screams again, wakening the echoes with hoarse cries. No physician can stand that long. His office is full of nervous people. They are upset by such a noise and begin fighting. Time is precious. The doctor throws the spatula into the basket under his desk and says, "Better take him home and bring him back when he is better. I cannot do anything for him when he behaves this way."

The dentist fumes worse. A suffering child is brought to him. The moment the dentist sets him in the chair he stiffens up and yells. It is impossible to get near his mouth. Striking, kicking, yelling, the child struggles to get down.

"You will have to take him home. I cannot help him when he acts like that. He has a tooth that ought to be removed at once. It is abscessed. It's going to give him a whole lot of pain if it isn't taken out. If he would let me brush the gum with this solution it would ease the pain."

"Now, now, ow-ow-ow," yells the sufferer and the dentist tosses his little wad of cotton into the basket, sigh and says, "Sorry, but I can't help him until he lets me."

Now the fear of a doctor or a dentist, a nurse or a teacher is not born in the child. It is acquired.

Make a friend of the doctor and of the policeman. Teach the child how to open his mouth, how to take his temperature, how to meet the doctor. Teach him his name, address, telephone number, father's name and the like so as to be ready to give them to the teacher and the policeman when the need arises. Practice these accomplishments and the youngsters will enjoy them.

LUTHER BURBANK'S BIRTH

On March 7, 1849, Luther Burbank, famous American nurseryman and plant breeder, was born on a farm at Lancaster, Mass.

Inspired as a youth by his readings in Darwin's work on plant domestication, young Burbank bought a 17-acre farm near his home and began his life work of plant breeding.

At the age of 23 he developed the Burbank potato, which is now an important standard variety of the Pacific coast region. In 1875 he removed to Santa Rosa, Cal., where he was to carry on for 50 years notable experiments with thousands of kinds of plants.

Burbank introduced among the fruits numerous varieties of apples, cherries, peaches, quinces and nectarines. Among vegetables he produced, besides his potato, new tomatoes, field and sweet corn, squash, asparagus and peas.

Perhaps his most extensive experiment was his production of a series of spineless cacti, useful for feeding cattle in arid regions.
